Inaugural Address

1896.

Hon. CHARLES F. ADAMS, 2d, Mayor.

Mayor's Address.

GENTLEMEN OF THE COUNCIL :—

It is a pretty custom which allows the Mayor to bid you all welcome on the first of the year, and to express a hope that the new year will see substantial improvements in the condition of our city, and the prosperity of our citizens; and to give his own pledge that he will serve the city honestly, faithfully, and with equal care for the interests of every locality and every man. It is also proper to take note now of the questions which must come before us during the year, and to review the condition of our finances, in order that we may determine wisely how best to meet the requirements of the city with the limited means at our disposal. Personally, however, I could wish that it was the custom for the retiring Mayor to give advice from the fullness of his experience, and that my time for offering suggestions could be postponed till greater experience in administration brought more mature judgment.

FINANCIAL.

The financial condition of the city does not materially alter from year to year, and we are still confronted with underlying conditions which necessitate a policy of strict economy. We realize with pleasure that our general debt has been reduced some $46,000 during the year, but we should not forget that this happy result has been to some degree accomplished by postponing heavy expenditures which must now be undertaken. This year the construction of two new schoolhouses is imperative, and with other public improvements which are most urgent the city will probably be compelled to borrow not less than $80,000. On the other hand, some $50,000 will mature and be paid. We must, therefore, anticipate an increase of about $30,000 in our general debt. Such a prospect need not cause serious apprehension as the debt will even then be well within the legal limit; nor would it cause uneasiness if that were the only financial burden our citizens had to face.

Both our large water debt, and our prospective sewer debt, though not included in the debt on which the law has set a general limit, must for some years to come add materially to the burden of general taxation. In the last year the water debt has increased $20,000. For the extension of mains and other work, $45,000 has been expended; $25,000 has matured and been paid. In a sense this department is self-sustaining, since the revenue received is more than sufficient to pay the expenses of maintenance, yet for some years to come a considerable part of the maturing debt must be paid by general taxation. This year that amount was approximately $25,000. What it will be in the future must depend largely on the principle on which water rates are assessed. It would be some hardship, no doubt, if rates were put so high that the present water-takers were called on to pay all the expense resulting from the acquisition of a plant and supply which belongs to the city, and must ultimately benefit every citizen; yet with the natural increase of revenue we can look forward confidently to the time when without injustice the general taxpayer will be relieved of this burden. For some years to come, however, we must raise by taxation a part of the maturing water debt.

The city, moreover, will probably begin this year the construction of a sewer. It would seem proper that the debt so incurred should be assumed by the city, and paid, as it matures, in part by an assessment of betterments on the lands directly benefited, in part by the city as a whole. When we remember that these two elements, and a playground debt of $48,000 should be added to the direct burden of our general debt; and remember further that the total burden of all our municipal debts, amounting now to nearly $1,000,000, and soon to be largely increased, falls in one way or another on a community which is neither very large nor very rich, and a community so situated and constituted that its current expenses must of necessity be large, it is plain that the situation demands great care and conservatism. If we spend unwisely the burden of taxation will bear heavily on all and tend to drive away such industries and individuals as can afford to move; yet unless we spend wisely in improvements our city will fall behind others in the march of progress, and will lose the very basis of prosperity. Each year we should provide not only that the condition of our streets and our public property be fairly maintained, and that our schools and institutions keep pace with our growth; but, moreover, we should do our share toward such lasting improvements as are necessary in order that our city may keep pace with the growth of the country about us; always, however, bearing in mind that our ambition must be measured by our means. We lack no element necessary to a future of great prosperity. If we move wisely and prudently; if every man does his full duty to our city, to its government, and to its industries, we may look forward with confidence to that future.

Let us glance here at the financial result of the year.

GENERAL DEBT.

General Debt, January 1, 1895,	$311,091 00
Minus amount paid, 1895,	52,451 00
	$258,640 00
Plus amount added, 1895,	6,255 61
Net debt January 1, 1896,	$264,895 61

A decrease of $46,196, or 15%, in the last year, and of $74,835 since December 30, 1893.

WATER DEBT.

Water Debt, January 1, 1895,	$705,000 00
Minus amount paid, 1895,	25,000 00
	$680,000 00
Plus amount added, 1895.	45,000 00
Net debt January 1, 1896,	$725,000 00

An increase of $20,000, or 28% in the last year, and of $10,000 since December 30, 1893.

PLAYGROUND DEBT.

Play Grounds Debt, January 1, 1895,	$49,000 00
Minus Amount paid, 1895,	1,000 00
Net Debt January 1, 1896,	$48,000 00

For current expenses we may raise either $12 per $1000 of the assessors' valuation of the last year less abatements, or a like amount on the average valuation of the three preceding years. By the first method our limit this year is $207,864, by the second $203,124. I see no reason why the current expenses of the coming year should exceed those of the past except by as much as is necessary to represent the natural growth of the city. It will not be very difficult then to keep within the legal limit just stated. I doubt however whether any of the appropriations of the past year can be reduced without injuring the effectiveness of the public service, and the possibility of improvement lies in an increase of that effectiveness rather than in a reduction of cost.

SCHOOLHOUSES.

The necessity of two new schoolhouses is recognized, and needs no new presentation. It is to be hoped that this year no disagreement will prevent the accomplishment of a work which has become a public economy, as well as an absolute necessity. I may perhaps be excused from reviving the well-worn arguments as to the best material for these schoolhouses. Enough to say that in my opinion true economy demands the use of brick. Were it otherwise a brick building is so far superior in safety, utility and dignity, as to justify a somewhat greater cost.

I trust the Council in taking this matter up will not without further investigation be satisfied that the plans submitted last year are the best to be had. It will be wise to allow further competition at least, and it is a grave question whether it is not better to directly employ the best architect to be had. The best opinions I have been able to consult all indicate that the best architects do not enter these competitions and that better results are usually obtained by working out the problems to be overcome in consultation with an architect of wide experience, and tried ability, rather than to accept the chance shot of one of half a dozen inexperienced men. Nor should we overlook the advantage of having the supervision and advice of an experienced architect during the work of construction. The ultimate cost for plans is obviously the same in either case, unless we include the possibility of loss through the work of an inexperienced man.

WATER SUPPLY.

Now that the city has definitely decided to enter the Metropolitan Water System, it becomes necessary to determine how we can avoid the danger of a lack of water during the next three years. As to the best mode of securing a further supply I am not as yet able to make any recommendation. It is possible however, that by enforcing such regulations as will prevent any improper, or wasteful, use of water, the necessity of securing a further supply may be avoided either permanently, or until we are better able to determine what course is best to pursue. Though it is really beyond the Mayor's province I would suggest that those who use water for lawns and gardens and such other uses as may be called luxurious in distinction to necessary domestic uses, ought to pay the expense which such use brings upon the city; and if it should appear that the cost of securing a new source of supply could be saved by limiting for a time all unnecessary uses, it would be less hardship to do so than to call on the city as a whole to assume a burden for the benefit of a comparatively small class.

STREETS.

The requirements of our streets and sidewalks present, as usual, perplexing problems. The difficulty of a proper maintenance of our system on the comparatively small appropriation available is well understood. There are many permanent improvements which are much needed. Hancock street, our main thoroughfare needs to be re-located, widened in places and rebuilt. Adams street, has equal claim for a small appropriation to finish what has already been done. The widening of Coddington street, would do much to develop a large section. Much else could be suggested, but in view of the unusually heavy expenses necessary this year in other directions it is perhaps not wise to undertake anything not absolutely urgent. On the whole the condition of Copeland street seems most to justify and demand immediate attention. The heavy teaming which passes over this road makes its condition serious, and the remedy difficult and expensive. Nothing short of a paved surface can long stand the wear, and for this reason it would be false economy to patch the present road, or build one of the ordinary construction. For a similar reason if the matter is taken up at all I trust it will be considered in a broad way and that such changes of location and grade will be made as the probable future needs of the street and locality seem to require. The cost of paving and curbing the whole street would alone amount to about $26,000, and if on careful consideration the burden of the whole work seems too great for one year, I trust at least a part of this important work will be undertaken in the near future.

SEWERAGE.

During the past year legislation has been secured, a commission appointed, and some preliminary work done toward securing the adoption of a sewerage system. The need of pushing forward this work requires no argument. So far as the general plan is concerned the function of the city government is limited to passing on plans which of necessity are prepared by experts, but in the matter of determining the best and most equitable method of apportioning the cost of construction the initiative and an equally heavy responsibility rests upon us. Since a sewer will add to the prosperity and value of the city as a whole perhaps more than any other public improvement which we could to-day undertake, it is but just that a considerable proportion of the cost should be assumed absolutely by the city and ultimately paid through the medium of the general tax levy. The remaining cost should be assessed as a betterment on those lands which are specially improved in value by the sewer, due care being taken to make the terms of payment as little burdensome as possible. If too great a proportion is assumed by the city an injustice is done to the owners of personal property to which no benefit accrues, and to those whose real estate is so remote as not to be directly benefited. On the other hand an equal injustice would result if the present abutters alone were called on to assume the burden of a work which with future extensions will bring a direct benefit to every piece of land in our city. The exact proportion in which this division of cost should justly be made, and the most equitable and practicable method of assessing the betterments, are questions to which I wish to give further study before making any more definite recommendations.

STREET LIGHTING.

There has been much just complaint for years past of the quality of our street lights. If the city can secure legislation under which we can construct an electric lighting plant for strictly municipal purposes, without purchasing the plant of the Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, the Council would do well to carefully investigate whether cheaper and better service could not be secured by the construction of a municipal lighting plant. While I do not as a rule believe that it is wise for a city to undertake such work, yet in this case it seems probable that facts will be found which justify such action.

MISCELLANEOUS.

I would suggest that, in order to avoid the danger and unsightliness which has resulted in other cities from the great multiplication of electric wires that the Council not only adopt the principle of not allowing more than one set of poles in any street, but further will see to it that so far as possible all dangerous wires be buried. This method is being adopted, and must prevail, in all cities of considerable size. We will save much difficulty and expense in the future by securing its early adoption here.

The Auditor has already advised certain changes designed to secure a more perfect system of accounting, and in consultation with the City Treasurer has prepared an ordinance to carry into execution these ideas. This I shall shortly submit to you with whatever recommendations I have to offer.

There will be a hearing on January 9th before the County Commissioners as to the widening of the bridge over the Old Colony location at Atlantic. Unless otherwise instructed I shall deem it my duty to urge a decree ordering that this work be undertaken at once.

A bill is now before the Legislature authorizing the Metropolitan Park Commission to construct a boulevard from the Neponset Bridge through Atlantic to Squantum and thence along the shore of Quincy Bay through Merrymount Park, up the course of Furnace Brook to the Blue Hill Reservation in West

Quincy. The inestimable importance of this work to our city as a whole cannot fail to strike every citizen, and it seems a public duty to do all that is possible to secure the passage of this bill.

One word more let me say. We all want to see Quincy well governed and prosperous. We all vaguely feel that it is a duty to take a personal interest in the affairs of the city. No one realizes more keenly than I that an administration can only really prosper and benefit the city if it enlists the support and personal interest of representative men of all industries and occupations, and from all sections. Realizing this, it will always be a pleasure to give all information in my power to any who may seek it, and I shall welcome all suggestions and information honestly given. Gentlemen of the Council, I trust our relations will be intimate and friendly, and I believe that they will be so, for differences can be but momentary when our one motive is to secure the welfare of our city.

Report of Commissioner of Public Works.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy.

SIR:—I herewith submit my second annual Report of the Department of Public Works for the year ending December 31st, 1895.

STREETS.

By the most economical management considerable work has been accomplished on our streets during the past year and many improvements have been made.

One of the most important recommendations that I would make (and I also made the same in my report of last year) would be to pave that portion of Hancock Street from its junction with Adams Street to the Neponset Bridge to correspond with that part of the street already paved.

Another street that needs prompt attention is Copeland Street. This is one of our main thoroughfares for heavily loaded teams, and nothing but a paved surface will stand the heavy traffic that is continually travelling through this street. I would therefore recommend for the best interests of the city that careful consideration be given to paving this street from its junction with Water Street to the West Quincy depot.

Adams Street should also receive a small appropriation to put a portion of the street in safe and proper condition. Both ends of this street are in very good condition, but there remains a portion from Whitwell Street to Furnace Brook that needs a little expenditure to correspond with the other part. I have tried for two years to rebuild this portion but was handicapped by the Council, but trust that some action will now be taken so as to complete this work.

Two thousand dollars was appropriated to regrade and rebuild the westerly part of Beale Street from what is known as Third Hill to Adams Street. This part of the street is in good condition but should be continued.

After considerable delay and discussion among the Council and abutters, Walker Street has at last been rebuilt and, with the small amount of money, is a fairly good street.

Five hundred dollars was appropriated to build a stone wall in the rear of the Wollaston School to prevent the surface water and drainage from flowing into the cellar. This work has accordingly been performed and has proved so far very effectual.

SIDEWALKS.

The sidewalks in our city are very poor, and no satisfactory results can be obtained until some action is taken to establish permanent sidewalks with edgestones, whereby the abutters are obliged to pay one-half the cost.

If these sidewalks could be constructed on certain streets each year, in a comparatively short time we would have some improvements that would be lasting and also beneficial to the public. As it is now, it is impossible to maintain a good sidewalk without edgestones, and they are few and far between.

One thousand dollars was appropriated for this work, and a few have taken the advantage of securing for themselves a permanent sidewalk.

BRIDGES, CULVERTS AND DRAINS.

The bridges have all been repaired where necessary. Several culverts have been constructed and enlarged and a number of drains built. I have also had several gutters paved so as to care for the surface water.

WATERING STREETS.

This is the fourth year that our streets, or, in fact, the most important ones, have been watered under the provisions of Section 4 of Chapter 179 of the Acts of the General Court of Massachusetts for the year 1891, authorizing one-half the expense to be assessed upon the abutters. Four thousand one hundred dollars was appropriated and $2,050 was to be received from the abutters in the form of taxes. The assessments in some cases were very small considering the benefit derived from same. In a few instances we had some complaints about the assessments, but nothing very serious.

I wish that next year the Council could order a few more streets watered, as I believe it is a great benefit to the highways and also to the health of the people.

The following is a list of the streets watered from April 30th to November 1st :—

Washington Street.

Adams St. from Hancock St. to Whitwell St.

Chestnut St. from Hancock St. to Foster St.

Foster St.

Temple St.

Granite St. from Hancock St. to Quarry St.

Hancock St. from School St. to Neponset Bridge.

School St. from Hancock St. to Franklin St.

Franklin St. from School St. to Independence Av.

Copeland St. from Brewer's Corner to Willard St.

Elm St.

Water St.

Crescent St.

Willard Street from the depot to the Milton line.
Newport Av. between Beale St. and Brook St.

STREET LIGHTING.

The lighting of our streets is not at all satisfactory. There is no system or regularity established in erecting new lights. Petitions are sent to the Council from various parties for one or two lights of some kind or other. These petitions are generally granted by the Council regardless of the location, and lights are ordered to be erected and properly maintained. On some streets lights are fully a quarter of a mile apart, and then again on some streets you will find a combination of arc, incandescent, and either oil or gas lights.

Our streets are lighted at the present time by 100 arc lights, 220 incandescent, 95 oil and 68 gas.

Year after year the city pays to these different companies over fourteen thousand dollars, and it does seem as if we should demand and receive better service.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

Four thousand five hundred dollars was appropriated for all the necessary repairs on the School Buildings, Hose Houses, Central Fire Station, City Hall and the City Stable. The Central Fire Station was in a dangerous condition and compelled prompt attention, as the ceilings and walls were liable to collapse at any time, thereby making it unsafe for the men and horses to occupy the building. This repairing was immediately performed and the building is now in a safe condition.

The Schoolhouses have all received their usual allowance of repairs. Considerable could be spent on some of the buildings, both on the exterior and interior, but the money is limited.

The City Stable is and has been in a dilapidated condition for years, and some action should be taken to have a safer and better building for the shelter of our horses.

City Hall remains as usual, three or four officers occupying one room, and at times it is very inconvenient and annoying.

The Mayor's office is nothing more than a box, deprived of daylight, heating and ventilation. It does seem as if some provision should be made so that at least the Mayor of our city could have a more convenient place that he could occupy as his office.

I would refer you to the Auditor's and Treasurer's report for a list of the appropriations, expenditures and receipts for my department during the year 1895.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM N. EATON,

Commissioner of Public Works.

Report of Park Commissioners.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The Board of Park Commissioners respectfully submit the following report:

The sum of $500 was appropriated at the beginning of the year to maintain the Parks and Playgrounds. Later $100 was transferred from the income from Parks, making $600 at the disposal of the Commissioners. There has been expended $524.08, leaving a balance of $75.92. A detailed financial report is appended.

There have been a few needed improvements made. The spring at Merry Mount Park, at the northerly end of the ball field has had a suitable granite curb built around it. It will be a luxury to all who visit the Park to partake of a glass of pure spring water.

At Faxon Park the undergrowth has been removed at considerable expense. This should be attended to every year, (in July), otherwise it soon becomes impassable.

Your Commissioners recommend that a suitable entrance be made to Merry Mount Park, from Hancock street, the coming season. The Park Commissioners of 1889, made the same recommendation, but it has been postponed year after year for want of the necessary appropriation.

Your Commissioners would further recommend that a survey be made of the recent addition to the Park and bounds established by granite posts.

Your Commissioners in behalf of the City take this opportunity to express their thanks to Hon. Charles Francis Adams for the recent gift of Pine Island as an addition to Merry Mount Park. We have now one of the finest natural Parks in New England. Your Commissioners in conference with the Metropolitan Park Commissioners held in Boston, Nov. 6, 1895, examined and discussed the proposed Boulevard along our shore front through Merry Mount Park, thence to the Blue Hill Reservation. The Metropolitan Park Commissioners promised to carefully consider the matter and to send their engineers to look over the ground.

This great public improvement is one of very much importance to the future growth and prosperity of our City and your Commissioners hope that every honorable effort will be made to have it speedily accomplished.

PLAY GROUNDS.

The bounds of all the Play Grounds have been defined by granite posts, the expense charged to the appropriation for purchase of Play Grounds.

The Play Ground in Ward 6 has been considerably improved, the loam taken from the extension of Walker street being used in grading, making quite a saving to the City.

The Play Grounds in Wards 3 and 4 are very low in many places. We strongly recommend that the Commissioner of Public Works be authorized to have the cleanings from the street gutters placed on these Playgrounds, thereby gradually filling them up at very little extra cost.

Your Commissioners request that the sum of $1,500 be placed at their disposal to be expended by them in maintaining the Parks and Playgrounds for the year ensuing.

Report of Managers of Public Burial Places.

To His Honor, the Mayor of the City of Quincy:—

A new departure was adopted by the Board of Managers of Public Burial Places soon after its organization. Formerly a superintendent was appointed to serve during the regular summer season. His work began about the middle of April and ended the latter part of October or when the heavy frosts made their appearance. The chairman of the board was forced to do the general routine work during the winter and early spring. It was by a unanimous vote that a permanent superintendent was chosen and he is on duty and at the call of the department every day in the year. The time is fast approaching when a residence with suitable chapel and office will have to be erected upon the grounds in the cemetery, and the superintendent occupying the same, will add greatly to the convenience of lot owners and visitors. Mr. James Nicol, whom the board voted unanimously to employ as permanent superintendent, resides on Coddington street, nearby the cemetery. He is a native of Scotland and by trade a granite worker, serving for many years as foreman for one of the largest granite manufacturing firms in this city. His experience of several years in setting monumental work, for this firm, in some of the large cemeteries of New York and the West, gave him an experience of great value. He has always cultivated flowers and of late years has done quite a business in that line at his greenhouses near his residence. He is especially adapted for the position he holds and the city has indeed been fortunate in securing one so capable. While Mr. Nicol is not perfect, he is honest and conscientious toward the city and courteous and gentlemanly to all those who have business with him. His first year, while not entirely exempt from fault, has marked the beginning of a change in the conduct of the management of the cemeteries, which will be improved upon as experience teaches. Suffice it to say, that many of our citizens have remarked upon the improvements and conditions inaugurated under the management for the past season.

OLD CEMETERY.

This cemetery was placed in charge of the superintendent and has been well cared for. A number of trees have been removed and others must be cut down the coming year. The paths have been kept clean and the leaves and rubbish have been removed at stated periods. It would be well for all lot owners to exchange their lots for ones in the Mt. Wollaston cemetery. The time is fast approaching when this burial place will be abolished.

MT. WOLLASTON CEMETERY.

This family burial place was first used in 1855. It seems as though the town had never considered that it would become of such size and although several additions have been made in recent years, the city will soon be called upon to purchase additional land. There are at present 1,563 lots in the cemetery and of that number two are occupied by the Receiving Tomb, four by the Soldiers' Monument, five for Single Graves and six by Private Tombs. There is in addition Plot A of 100 single graves, 70 of which are unused at the present time; a plot of free graves which is filled and another plot of 90 free graves as well as the Sailors' Snug Harbor plot. At the present time all of the small lots have been sold, so that those who cannot afford to buy the larger ones, are compelled, to take the single graves. Additional land will be graded during the next season so that the department will have for sale some of the most desirable.

lots in the cemetery. The same method for the care of lots, which has been in vogue for many years, was continued this season, except that the former average price was made the one price to all. This has caused some comment in several instances but it was considered that every lot owner should receive the same treatment. Much difficulty has been experienced in finding just who was responsible for the care of some of the lots, as no book of addresses is in possession of the department. During the next year extra efforts will be used to find the address of every living lot owner, as well as of those who are now responsible for the care of lots. These will be carefully placed in a suitable book and correspondence can then be sent at all times without delay.

Early in the Spring of 1896 circulars will be sent to lot owners, with return postal card, which must be signed and sent to the board, stating that the party will be responsible for the care of their lot during the coming season. In no other way will lots be cared for by the department. At no distant day proper rules will have to be passed, which will make compulsory, the care of all lots; this has become necessary in justice to those who keep their lots neat and attractive. One neglected lot surrounded by those well kept, is objectionable to the cemetery and discouraging to other lot owners. We are too apt to forget to care for the last resting places of departed relatives and friends.

A number of trees were removed during the past year and quite a number more will be cut down in the near future. This has become necessary because of the large number in so small a place. Monuments and headstones were being disfigured by moss and mold, while it was almost impossible to make grass and plants grow. The cemetery has already shown improvement from the comparatively few that have been removed.

THE PERPETUAL CARE AND REPAIR FUND.

The Perpetual Care and Repair Fund is now deposited with the National Granite Bank. The amount of the fund is $8,275.00 and the income was spent for the specified purpose during the season.

The object of this fund is, that by depositing a sum of money to be approved of by the board of managers, with the city of Quincy, your lot will be forever cared for. If more of the lot owners would take advantage of this method of caring for lots, the appearance of the cemetery would be greatly improved and what is oftentimes now an unpleasant duty, would be done by those specially hired for that purpose by the city.

FOUNDATIONS FOR MONUMENTS.

A rule has been made and is strictly enforced that all foundations shall be put in by the Board of Managers under the direction of the superintendent. This has taken a considerable sum which should be spent on the general care of the cemetery, but experience had shown that some monuments and headstones were erected with practically no foundation to support them. The frosts have thrown these monuments over and then at additional cost to owners, and the destruction of the grass sods, as well as frequently causing much rubbish to be removed by the employees of the department, they have been reset. While the cemetery loses this money for general care the city should make a special appropriation for this purpose, as the money thus used is almost immediately paid back into the treasury of the city by those having the work done.

The avenue running parallel with Valley street was formerly used as a dump and had become unsightly. It was levelled and graded this year and is no longer a nuisance.

The two ponds in the cemetery should receive proper care during the coming year. In the dry weather of summer they become disagreeable to look at and obnoxious to be near. They should be properly cleaned out and the sides walled with stone and in other ways made attractive.

A plan has been adopted of filling in all cross-walks, thus connecting together the lots in large plots. This is known as the "Lawn Plan" and is being adopted in all new cemeteries and many of the old ones. Besides the great improvement in the general appearance, the care of lots is reduced to a minimum. The piece already done has created much favorable comment and requests were received from other lot owners to have their lots arranged on the same plan. As this work is paid for almost immediately upon completion by the owners, the city should make a special appropriation, that the change may progress without loss to the general repairs and care.

The income of this department is nearly the same as it has been for several years and this in spite of the scarcity of money. The amount from sale of lots has been $622 less than the year 1894. There remains a number of unpaid bills for foundations and care of lots and had they been paid at the proper time the income would have shown an increase over that of last year.

Report of City Physician.

To His Honor, the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The following report of the City Physician is respectfully submitted.

The health of the inmates of the Almshouse for the past year has, with few exceptions, been excellent; there has been one death at the advanced age of eighty-six years.

The average number of inmates for the year was twenty, at an average age of fifty-six years.

I have made thirty-two calls during the year.

The outside poor have been especially favored from severe long continued disease, and particularly from contagious disease, for although diphtheria has been more or less prevalent throughout the year, not a case has been under my care for the poor department. Medical calls on outside poor about one hundred and thirty, at the office sixty, of childbirth five cases.

JOHN F. WELCH, M. D.

City Physician.

Health Department.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:—

The Board of Health respectfully present their annual report for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1895.

The organization of the Board was made at a meeting held early in February. Benj. F. Curtis was elected Chairman, Timothy F. Ford, Secretary and Dr. J. H. Ash, Consulting Physician.

Mr. T. F. Ford was appointed Inspector.

One of the earliest matters to receive the attention of the Board was the importance of improving the Scavenger System of the city. Complaints by citizens, and the personal knowledge of the workings of the old system led the Board to consider the desirability of adopting a more cleanly and responsible system than had previously prevailed.

Testimonials and visits to neighboring cities where the contemplated system was in practical working order, led the Board to adopt the Odorless Excavating Co.'s system, and after inviting proposals from a number of parties, the Board contracted with Mr. Edward Menhinick for the scavenger work of the city, at moderate prices, considering the cost of the apparatus needed to do the work.

The system was adopted in March, and without doubt this work has been done more thoroughly and cleanly than ever before and to the entire satisfaction of the Board. Great attention has been paid to a thorough inspection of all the sanitary conditions of the city.

A personal inspection of practically every estate in the city has been made by the Inspector. Recommendations and complaints have been made, and in almost every instance the owners have promptly complied with the wishes of the Board. We have found a very laudable desire on the part of the citizens to accept the suggestions of the Inspector.

One evil which has existed for many years, and which has been a prolific source of complaint, has been taken in hand and great progress has been made towards its abolishment.

We refer to the carting of swill, garbage, etc., through our city by non-residents and others.

The Board early in March adopted a rule that the carting of swill, garbage, etc., should be done under the most stringent regulations.

Accordingly, after some considerable difficulty, a list of those engaged in carting was obtained, and notification sent to all and strict rules adopted, licenses were granted to some seventy-five owners of teams to cart swill etc., through our city.

A rigid inspection of wagons, boxes, etc., was established and we feel sure that all will agree with us, that this uncleanly business has been regulated and made much better than ever before.

In May the collection of garbage in the city from householders was put in charge of the Board of Health, it formerly having been in charge of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Immediately after taking charge, we found that practically a large portion of the city, mostly in Wards 1, 2 and 4, had not been covered. As the appropriation had been made for the year before it was decided to place it in our charge, we were in doubt if the service could be extended to serve all parts of the city alike.

After a careful survey of the situation, we voted to extend the service over the whole city, and made contracts with Mr. John Gearin to cover Wards 2, 4 and Hough's Neck and Rock Island, and since May we have been enabled, by careful management, to completely cover all parts of the city, making two collections from the whole, and three from most of the thickly settled parts of the city weekly.

Whilst this service was as good as it was possible to get for the money appropriated, we strongly recommend that a uniform service of three collections weekly be established, as the health and comfort of the citizens will be greatly benefited by the appropriation of the extra sum necessary to carry out the proposed change.

The Board considering the great advantages to be obtained by the citizens to have places where the refuse of the city could be deposited, have established two public Dumps, one on Valley street, and one on Arlington street, at Wollaston. A small sum will keep both places in good condition and we hope, by this means, many nuisances will be abated, and unsightly piles of rubbish will no longer offend the eyes of our citizens and more cleanly conditions of our streets and ways may be expected.

The public water courses of the city have received particular attention.

Many personal visits of the Board have been made to them all, and particularly to the head waters of those which supply our ice ponds. The sanitary conditions on the streams have been very much improved.

The health of the city has been about the same as the average of previous years.

No epidemic of contagious disease has prevailed, with the exception of Diphtheria in the first part of the year; we have cause to be thankful that such was the case.

We append a list of all contagious diseases for the year and also the list of deaths.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR.

To the Board of Health:

GENTLEMEN.—I herewith tender my report for the year ending December 31st.

I have practically inspected the entire city, paying particular attention to tenement houses and surrounding premises.

The following is a list of the various nuisances discovered and abated :—

Nuisances.	Discovered.	Abated.
Unclean privy vaults	288	288
Unclean cesspools	134	132
Sinkpools on surface of the ground	46	46

Decomposing fish	2	2
Total	573	567

One hundred and sixty-three cases of scarlet fever, diphtheria and membranous croup have been reported by attending physicians during the year. The rooms occupied by the patients have been in almost every case fumigated and cleansed by your Inspector. Occasionally the work has been done by the family under the direction of the attending physician and to the satisfaction of your Inspector. The brooks and water courses were cleaned and widened under my supervision as thoroughly as the appropriation would permit.

Town Brook was cleaned and widened from the Canal to Water street; Sachem Brook from the sea to Arlington street; Furnace Brook from Black's Creek through the land of Mr. Brooks Adams, and from Hall place to land of Mr. E. H. Doble in West Quincy; Wollaston Brook from tidegate to tracks of N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R.; Phipps street Brook from Quincy avenue to Hammond place, and Eaton's Brook, so called, from ice pond, to Hall place and from Robertson street to the Milton line. As the territory drained by several of the brooks mentioned is being built upon very rapidly, more work will be required in the future. The regulation governing the carting of garbage through our city, from Boston, has been enforced. Three cases of violation of this regulation have been successfully prosecuted in the court, and the character and appearance of the wagons used improved over that of last year.

Respectfully,

TIMOTHY F. FORD, Inspector.

REPORT OF INSPECTOR OF PLUMBING.

QUINCY, January 1st, 1896.

B. F. Curtis, Esq., Chairman of Board of Health:

DEAR SIR:—I herewith tender you my second annual report as Inspector of Plumbing of the City of Quincy, for the year ending December 31st, 1895. The work attended to during the year has been as follows:

Number New Houses Inspected	123
Number New Stores Inspected	10
Number New Churches Inspected	2
Number Alterations Inspected	20
<hr/>
Total Number of Inspections	155
Representing an aggregate estimated value of . .	$27,000 00

There has been a decided improvement in the manner in which the work has been performed, the Ordinances regulating Plumbing being rigidly enforced, and no work allowed to proceed, without giving evidence of being thoroughly up to the standard.

Very respectfully yours,

J. J. KENILEY, Inspector of Plumbing.

Report of Inspector of Milk.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

I have the honor to submit the following report:

I have issued 42 licenses to dealers in milk selling from wagons, and 47 certificates of registration to dealers selling from stores or houses. The total receipts of the office have been $44.50, which I have returned to the City Treasurer.

I have made frequent tests of samples of milk from all parts of the city and have found the milk almost uniformly to be up to the legal standard. One dealer was cautioned that the milk delivered to him by the contractor was too near the minimum standard. In his own defense he immediately changed the source of supply. No prosecutions have originated in this office.

Respectfully,

HENRY C. HALLOWELL, M. D.,

Inspector of Milk.

Quincy, January 1, 1896.

Report of Overseer of the Poor.

Quincy, January 16, 1896.

To his Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

I herewith submit my report as Overseer of the Poor for the year 1895, and in so doing follow the same general plan of my last report.

The appropriation for this department for 1895 was eighty-five hundred dollars. Of that sum I have at this date approved bills amounting to eighty-three hundred and thirty-eight and 9-100 dollars, although cities and towns having claims against this city are so apt to be tardy in sending in their bills that there is undoubtedly considerably more expense to be properly charged to the account of last year.

Of this sum twenty-two hundred and sixty-eight and 30-100 dollars was expended on account of the almshouse and six thousand sixty-nine and 79-100 dollars on account of the outside poor, and I annex to this report a summary of these several accounts.

According to the system that was begun two years ago the income received from the State and other cities and towns for the support of their poor has not gone to the credit of this department, but has been paid directly to the City Treasury, though of course all such sums so received lessen the net cost of maintaining our poor. For instance, we have continued the practice begun in 1894 of paying the City Hospital for cases for which the Commonwealth has to pay, amounting in the past year to five hundred and ninety dollars. Of course this is a charge on our appropriation, but actually costs the city nothing; but it is a charge against our account, and although I think on the whole that in the past year there has been a somewhat less number of calls for aid, and much less on account of the non-employment of wage earners, although in many individual cases the amount of aid needed and rendered has been unusually large, yet the amount chargeable to State and other cases will cause our appropriation, when all bills are paid, to seem to have over-run. I earnestly recommend that in the future the poor department be credited with amounts paid by or chargeable to the State or other Cities or Towns, so that the department will not seem to expend more money for the support of the poor of Quincy than it actually does expend.

The condition and management of the almshouse has been as in the past very satisfactory. Mr. Franklin Jacobs as Superintendent and Mrs. Jacobs as Matron, have performed their not always easy or pleasant duties with a good degree of judgment and discretion.

I wish to renew my recommendations of last year in regard to some needed improvements at the almshouse. There should be, I think, an appropriation for putting in an additional bathroom and water closet for the inmates, and also one for the Superintendent and his family. The system of lighting by kerosene lamps is, in my opinion, highly dangerous and unsatisfactory when so much better and safer methods can be had at no very considerable expense. The use of electric lighting would do away with all the dangers that in such an institution are likely to result from the use of oil lamps. I think it will be found on comparison of expenses of the Poor Department of other cities of the Commonwealth that those of Quincy are much less per capita of our population than those of any other city.

The income of the Cotton Center Johnson Fund was distributed as usual under the direction of the Committee on Poor of the City Council, and it would be very desirable if it could be so invested safely as to produce a larger income than the present one of 4 per cent.

I should recommend that the same amount be appropriated for the expense of this Department for the coming year as for the last, if the Department is to be credited with receipts from other Cities and Towns, otherwise I should recommend an increased appropriation.

Report of Inspector of Animals and Provisions.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

DEAR SIR,—I have the honor to submit my annual report.

I find in Quincy some very fine cows, oxen, bulls and young cattle, well kept and in good condition, and yet there has been a number of cases of tuberculosis, and those have been destroyed, and there may be other cases in the first stages that cannot be detected without the aid of tuberculin.

It has been stated that consumption destroys one-sixth of the human race. Consumption and tuberculosis are one and the same disease. The same germ that produces tuberculosis in cattle produces consumption in man. The disease is communicable from a diseased man to a healthy animal, and from a diseased animal to a healthy human being.

The malady is conveyed from an affected animal to mankind through the milk or the meat used for food. It is because of this incontestable but rather recently appreciated fact that so much of an endeavor is now being made to rid the different states and countries of tuberculosis cattle.

Every intelligent thinking man in New England to-day may be asking himself the question, "Where can I procure my meat, milk, butter and cheese with the absolute knowledge that I am not giving to my family the germs of consumption?"

It is thought that tuberculosis has been found in the hog, and Inspectors are instructed to inspect them. Any person slaughtering or knowingly authorizing or causing to be slaughtered a hog without having it inspected is liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or to imprisonment in jail not exceeding sixty days, or to both such fine and imprisonment; therefore all hogs must be inspected. This makes a very great increase in the labor of Inspectors.

HORSES.

During the last year glanders and farcy have appeared in a number of cases, and some horses have been killed. I would advise people not to water their horses from a trough of standing water, for in that way their horses may get glanders. Fountains of running water are not so dangerous. I wish if any one knows of a suspicious case that he would notify me immediately, that it may be taken care of at once.

MEATS AND PROVISIONS.

I think Quincy has some first-class provision stores to be proud of, with fine quality of meat and provisions, kept neat and clean, the sight of which may tempt the purchaser to buy. It is seldom I see anything to find fault with. Most of the meat and fish carts that belong in Quincy are well kept, and it is not very often that I am obliged to seize and destroy any meat or fish, but the greatest trouble is with meat and fish carts that come from out of town, especially those which come from Boston. Sometimes they may have a tolerably fair load, and again they may have that which is not fit for food and must be destroyed, but thus far no one has appealed from my decision.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES M. CUTTING,

Inspector of Animals and Provisions.

The Police have done good service the past year and worked together harmoniously, and conducted themselves in a manner to command the respect of all with whom they have come in contact. Their lot is not an agreeable one and often their patience has to be very elastic. It is now time that this "Plant" was set out in proper shape to grow, as it surely will even faster than we wish. It should be equipped with proper and necessary officers to fill responsible positions. In my opinion the ordinance governing this Department should be amended to better suit the present condition. There are now three special officers doing regular duty while two regular officers are doing "detached" duty. The specials should be made permanent and the two regular officers' grade be removed from that of patrolmen. Every body of men should have some one at the head to look to for orders when cases arise out of the usual order, as they are liable to at any time, and there should be some office created to fill this need in this city. In the night time, now, there is no one officer on duty higher in command than any other (and eight-ninths of the patrol duty is done in the night), and it is necessary that some one should have the authority to direct. I recommend that an office be created to supply this want, and also the office of Inspector of Police be created. The pay of the Police in justice to themselves should be on the graded system. An officer is worth more the second and still more the third than he is the first year of his service. The pay of the Police in this city is below that of any other in the State of its size and lower than it ought to be for the kind of men that are on the force. There is no reason in the argument usually used that because a good officer wants good pay his place can be filled cheaper. A pusillanimous officer is dear at any price. A police officer has to endure all kinds of weather and look after everyone's welfare, receive all the abuse that the public wish to bestow, be a general director of everybody at some time, and answer questions that are altogether out of his jurisdiction. The hazardous nature of his duty should be considered. He is liable to accidents in many ways, to be set upon at any time of night, and he may be in a crowd of people that are law-abiding and yet not one in ten would lift a hand to help him. The unusual amount of thieving the past year has required the service of one officer to look after this special work. Officer Daniel R. McKay has attended to this in addition to his other work, and proved himself to be the right man in the right place. He has worked early and late and recovered and returned to the lawful owners property to the amount of more than four times his pay, and many of the thieves have been caught and are now serving sentences.

LIQUOR LAW.

Daniel R. McKay was appointed liquor officer about the middle of June and has attended to that duty. Every complaint of violation of the law has been investigated and every inkling of a sale of liquor in Quincy has been traced to terminate as a bubble or brought to prosecution. The officers one and all are interested in this work and give cheerfully all the aid in their power in ferreting out any suspicious places. The past year we have had five cases in court for illegal selling. The 1st was fined ($75 00) seventy-five dollars and committed to jail for non-payment of fine, 2d fined ($75 00) seventy-five dollars and appealed to Superior Court, and fined ($100 00) one hundred dollars there and paid, 3rd was on an old warrant of long standing and the case continued for good behavior, 4th fined (50 00) fifty dollars and paid, 5th fined (70 00) seventy dollars, appealed and case still pending.

Two search warrants have been issued by the Court :

1st. There were no liquors found.

2d. About (88) eight-eight gallons of beer was seized but ordered returned by the Court. The enforcement of the liquor law requires nothing less than eternal vigilance, not only on the part of the police but of every sober-minded and law-abiding citizen. The man that comes to me and says that he knows where there is liquor sold in Quincy and will give no more information in regard to it, or offers to sell his knowledge of the case for a certain price, I consider an enemy to good government. The person that is in possession of such facts and withholds them from the police rather than be mixed up in the case, has some consideration, but still he is not doing his duty as a good citizen. I beg leave to bring to your notice the condition of this Department. We have to work under difficulties by not being properly equipped for business. As far as equipment goes it is just where it was twenty-four years ago when six cells for a lock-up were built in the cellar under the Town Hall. There is no other department in the city whose growth of business has exceeded this and still we have to put up with the accommodations and no modern appliances whatever for doing the business more than the town had at that time, when they cared for (243) two hundred and forty-three persons in one year, and the past year there has been nearly (3000) three thousand cared for and crowded into the same space. If we intend to keep in line with our neighbors and not be overpowered by the enemy we must be put in shape to meet any emergency. I do not wish to enumerate all the wants of the Department in this report, (please see report for 1894), but I do want the Committee on Police to make a personal and thorough examination and satisfy themselves that nothing has been asked for that is not absolutely needed, and then try to remedy the evil.

The demands on the Police grow as time passes, and more men are called for each succeeding year. These demands are attended to to the best of our ability, and the supply for the call will have to be attended to as they are pressed upon the city. Financially this Department has been run within the appropriation the past year. The transfer of ($50 00) fifty dollars from the appropriation for the enforcement of the liquor law to the appropriation for Police Station was caused by money being paid for the latter for the support of prisoners in the lock-up from Randolph, Braintree and Weymouth that were committed by order of the Court to await further examination. This money is all refunded to the city, but is not placed to the credit of the Department from which it was taken. The same condition will present itself every year unless there are fifty dollars more appropriated for the Police Station.

In conclusion I desire to express my thanks to His Honor the Mayor for his council and support, to His Honor the Judge and also the Clerk of the East Norfolk District Court for many favors shown, to all members of the Police Department for their faithful service and to any and all citizens who have in any way assisted me in the discharge of my duty.

Respectfully submitted,

JOSEPH W. HAYDEN,

Chief of Police.

Thomas Crane Public Library.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

The appropriation by the City for the use of the Public Library the past year was $5,600—$70 less than the previous year. This money has been expended, in a general way, for the ordinary purposes and expenses. There has been, however, some unusual ones to be taken into account. A new catalogue has become an imperative necessity. The Committee would have been glad to issue a new edition of the one already in use, but on account of the large attending expense it was thought not expedient. They therefore adopted the card system now in general use in the better class of libraries. It is now in preparation, and a portion of it is already in use. A printed fiction list will probably be prepared and issued during the coming year.

Improvements of various kinds have been made. The number of periodicals has been increased. A much larger number of books has been rebound, also a larger number has been replaced. The whole number of books purchased during the year is 870. Of these, of course, the majority is fiction, but beyond this many valuable books upon art, science and the recent questions of the day, have been added. It is hoped that the ensuing year will show a still larger increase in this direction. The ideal of a library is a place where any one can find anything he desires. Of course this cannot be realized within our necessary limitations; still we hope to carry out, as far as may be, the generous purpose of the founder, and the plan of the gentlemen who have preceded us.

It will be seen that the circulation of this year has been less than that of last. This is accounted for by the prevalence of diphtheria at the beginning of the year. In spite of this, however, the school circulation has been considerably larger. It is hoped that the entire circulation may be substantially increased during the coming year.

During the year a bequest of $20,000 has been made by Mrs. Clarissa L. Crane, lately deceased, the widow of Mr. Thomas Crane, to whose memory the beautiful Crane Memorial Hall was erected. Perhaps it will be well to give the clause of the will entire.

"To the Trustees of the Thomas Crane Public Library of Quincy, Massachusetts, a body corporate, the sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be known as the 'Thomas Crane Endowment Fund.' In trust to be used and applied as follows: The income thereof for all or any of the following purposes, namely: for repair of the Library building, for improvement of the Library grounds and for the purchase of works of art for the Library; and at any time at the option of said Corporation, to use and apply the principal and any unexpended income for the enlargement or extension of the Library grounds, or for the erection of a building or buildings to be used in connection with the said Library, but in no case shall this legacy or any part thereof be used to enlarge or alter the present Library building." The executors have two years from April, 1895, in which to pay all legacies without interest, and they are to pay any legacy duty or succession tax.

Report of the Fire Department.

To His Honor the Mayor of the City of Quincy:

In compliance with the requirements of the City ordinance, I hereby present my second annual report for the year ending December 31, 1895, containing a statement of all fires and the alarms for the year; the loss and insurance on the same as far as could be ascertained; a list of the permanent force of the department and their ages; a schedule of the property under their charge; also:

ORGANIZATION.

The force consists of one Chief and six Assistant Engineers, six permanent men and sixty-four call men, four Hose companies with ten men each, one Ladder company of twelve men one Combination Chemical Engine and Hose wagon with ten men, one Hose wagon at Hough's Neck with one thousand feet of hose, and volunteer company, with steward to take care of the same.

APPARATUS.

The apparatus consists of one steam fire engine in good condition, one combination chemical engine, one ladder truck, two hose carriages, four hose wagons, three hose reels, one express wagon for fire alarm purposes, one exercise wagon loaded with one thousand feet of hose, ready at all times at Central Station in case of a large fire, one chemical engine, one hand engine.

I will still recommend, as before in my last report, a Central Fire Station to be built between Squantum street and the old car house lot of the Quincy and Boston Street Railway. I will also recommend this station to be built at once, as the fire protection in that part of the city is very bad.

The number of horses in the Department owned by the city is eight. We have in service 8,350 feet cotton hose, rubber lined, 1,000 feet which is in poor condition ; 150 feet linen hose. The water supply continued to be good. New hydrants have been added in nearly all parts of the city, thereby increasing the facilities of the Department to get a supply of water and to use shorter lines of hose. Fifty-four new hydrants have been added during the past year, making the whole number 332. I would recommend putting in 50 hydrants on the old line of pipes, as that would give shorter lines and better fire protection.

RESERVOIRS.

The reservoirs are 16 in number, and are in about the same condition as they were a year ago.

FIRE ALARM.

There have been 7 signal boxes added the past year, therefore giving better fire protection in the different parts of the city.

CONCLUSION.

In closing this report I desire to tender my sincere thanks to Hon. Wm. A. Hodges for his interest in the welfare of the Department, to the Council for all favors rendered me during the year, to City Auditor Hall and Treasurer Burgin for all favors rendered me during the past year; to Chief of Police Hayden, officers and men, for the efficient manner in which they performed their duties at all fires; to the Committee on Fire Department, for the interest they have manifested in the business of the Department; to City Electrician Wight for the pains taken at all times to keep the fire alarm in order; to my associates of the Board of Engineers, officers and members for the prompt and efficient manner in which they have discharged the duties, thereby maintaining the reputation of the Department for efficiency.

FIRES AND ALARMS.

There were 62 alarms during the year; 53 bell alarms and 9 still alarms.

The value of property, $188,730; loss $15,413.89

Insurance upon same, $101,555.

Loss on property for 2 years, $28,672.89 with 115 alarms.

QUINCY, December, 31, 1895.

To His Honor the Mayor and the City Council of the City of Quincy:

GENTLEMEN :—The Board of Water Commissioners respectfully submits the following, its fourth annual report for the year ending December 31, 1895.

The Board organized at its first regular meeting in February, by electing John T. Cavanagh, Chairman and James H. Stetson, Secretary. The resignation of Mr. F. E. Hall as Superintendent having been accepted on January 10th to take effect February 1st, Mr. Cavanagh accepted the position of temporary Superintendent at the request of the Board. On March 8th, William G. A. Pattee was appointed a member of the Board. On March 13th Mr. Cavanagh was appointed acting Superintendent and thereupon resigned as Chairman, Mr. Pattee being elected to fill the vacancy for the year.

The principal work, as in other years, has been the extending of street mains. During the year 6.61 miles of pipe have been laid and 54 hydrants added. The Board has not completed the laying of the 16" pipe on Common street as it did not deem it necessary until some steps were taken toward the erection of a stand pipe on Third Hill Wollaston.

The unexpended balance for construction January 1st, 1895, was $1,322.06, the amount appropriated was $45,000.00, the balance on hand December 31, 1895 is $14,074.69. With this amount 306 new services were added, water mains were extended to Houghs Neck also through West, Willard, Charles and Robertson streets and Highland avenue and several other minor extensions.

The total amount received for the sale of water for the year ending December 31, 1895, is $45,480.67. We estimate the probable gross receipts from this source for the year 1896 to be $49,500.00 and the amount required for the maintenance account at $15,500.00. The amount of water bills uncollected January 1, 1895 was $9,008.63. During the year most of these bills were collected so that on January 1, 1896 the back bills were either paid or the water turned off, except in some few cases where this was impossible on account of more than one house being supplied by the same service.

The Board is of the opinion, that it would not only be a saving to the City, but an accommodation to the water takers to have the City Ordinance amended so that the regular bills may be paid annually and the meter bills quarterly, and that the use of the receipts may be applied to the extending of service pipes: also that the department should have credit for the new hydrants set each year, and that the premium received from the sale of Water Bonds should be credited to the department.

The water in the reservoir reached its lowest point on October 12 being 9.66 ft. below the overflow which was .28 feet below the lowest point of last year.

The average daily consumption of water for the year was 904,152 gallons, an increase of 106,153 gallons over the average daily use of 1894. The total consumption for the year was 330,015,439 gallons. The maximum quantity used was 1,668,482 gallons on June 24 and the minimum quantity was 625,766 gallons, February 17.

In December the City Council voted to enter the Metropolitan Water Supply system, and it was therefore deemed inexpedient to construct the stand pipe on Third Hill, Ward 5, as its place will be taken by a much larger and more ornamental one erected by the Metropolitan Commissioners.

Several conferences have been had with the Metropolitan Commissioners and we were lead to believe that our present system can be reinforced this coming season if the consumption requires it, and that we will be able to receive the full benefits of the Metropolitan Supply within three years. With this assurance we feel it to be unwise to spend any great amount of money on the present basin or pumping station.

Total length of street mains, December 31, 1895	63.01 miles
Total number of service connections, December 31, 1895	2,560
Total number of hydrants set to December 31, 1895	332

For minor details of work done by this department, see report of the Superintendent annexed hereto.

Water Commissioners.

Report of Superintendent.

To the Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Quincy:

GENTLEMEN:—I have the honor to present herewith the annual report of the Superintendent for the year ending December 31, 1895.

In January a full account of stock in the several departments of the works was taken which will be found recorded in the office.

At the pumping station a number of improvements were made. The disposal of the 100,000 gallons of hot water, used per day for condensing purposes, which has been running over private land, has been a question of much study. The problem was solved by laying a 6 inch pipe from the boilers to Town Brook, a distance of about 800 feet, and this plan was found to work entirely satisfactorily.

The boilers have been tested and were found in good condition. The pumps have been varnished and two coats of paint have been put on the walls of the engine and boiler rooms. The fire alarm whistle was replaced at the pumping station by the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department.

It has been difficult to keep the windows and door of the gate-house from being broken, and in order to prevent this iron gratings were put on for the summer months and replaced by wooden shutters in the winter. Since this has been done no trouble has been had from this source.

The chemical and microscopical examinations of the water in the reservoir have been made each month, copies of which are filed in the office.

Particular attention has been paid to clearing the pipes of any stagnant water which collects in the dead ends. This work has been done each month throughout the year, with the exception of two months in the fall, when the water was so low in the reservoir that it was not deemed wise to waste the amount necessary to do this work. Once each month a careful inspection has been made of each hydrant, especially during the winter months and in this manner they have been kept in complete working order.

The only serious leak that has occurred this year was at the Atlantic bridge, caused by the pipes being frozen. A new boxing has been made and placed around the pipes, so that no trouble is expected from this source for several years.

On April 29th a contract was made with the McNeal Pipe and Foundry Company of Burlington, N. J., to deliver 574 tons of cast iron pipe in sizes from 4 to 16 inches, at $21.16 per gross ton. This is the lowest price that similar pipe has been bought for in this section. All of this was delivered at the pipe yard within the specified time.

On September 1st, the office was moved to the Adams Building, rooms 20 and 21, which afford better accommodations and are more conveniently situated to the City Hall.

In November notice was received from Mr. Henry H. Faxon that the rent of the shop and stable would be raised from $22 to $30 per month, to take effect on December 1st. At the direction of the Board a building 25x75 feet, to be used as shop and stable, and nearly an acre of land for yard room was rented of the estate of C. P. Tirrell on Hancock street, for $22 per month and the change was accordingly made.

It was thought expedient to hire a blacksmith to do the work of the Department and therefore a shop was built. Doing the work in this manner was found to be more convenient and a saving to the Department.

I would advise the purchase of a new safe for the office as the present one is much too small.

In order to make some necessary extensions late in the season, twenty-four lengths of 6 inch pipe were borrowed from the town of Weymouth and twenty-eight lengths from the town of Braintree. This pipe must be returned, and as there is none on hand other than the 16 inch, I would advise the purchase of some at once.

I subjoin the following tables, the record of consumption, amount of rain fall and of pipes, gates and hydrants in use, etc., all of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN T. CAVANAGH, Acting Superintendent.

Law Department.

Hon. Charles F. Adams 2d. Mayor of Quincy:

SIR:—The following suits were pending against the City of Quincy, January 1, 1895, and were described in my annual report last year.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts vs. Cities of Quincy and Boston.

Mary F. Hayward vs. City of Quincy.

Adeline W. Waterhouse vs. City of Quincy.

Peter J. Donaher et als vs. City of Quincy.

City of Quincy vs. Marquis F. Dickinson et als.

City of Quincy vs. Horace Wadleigh et als.

City of Quincy vs. Henry D. Hyde et als.

The first case is still pending. The Hayward case was settled before trial by the Park Commissioners. In the Waterhouse case a jury awarded the plaintiff $4,265.93. I settled the dispute in the Donaher case for $50 with your approval. The last three cases were the suits brought by the City of Quincy against the bondsmen on the Willard schoolhouse contract, concerning which I referred to at some length in my report last year. After careful examination of the facts in these cases, and after many interviews with M. F. Dickinson, Jr., Esq., who represented all the bondsmen, I secured a settlement for $5,000, which was approved by the City Council and Mayor Hodges. The money has been paid into the City Treasury. I regard the settlement as a favorable one.

During the past year, suits have been entered in the courts of the Commonwealth against the city as follows:

A. Mason Bachelder vs. City of Quincy.

Stephen Nagle vs. City of Quincy.

Mary McClay vs. City of Quincy.

Ida E. Wilkinson vs. City of Quincy.

Maggie Tipping vs. City of Quincy.

Mary Nelson vs. City of Quincy.

Bridget Dolan vs. City of Quincy.

James E. Cotter vs. City of Quincy.

Mr. Bachelder's claim is for $1,000, damages done to his horse and sleigh because of an accident at the corner of School and Hancock streets February 10, 1894; occasioned, he alleges, by high ridges of snow alongside of the car tracks. The case is pending in the District Court of East Norfolk.

Mr. Nagle's suit is for $5,000 damages for personal injuries occasioned by an accident while he was driving a coal pung February 17, 1894, on Washington street between River and North streets. The plaintiff claims total disability as the result. The alleged defect in the street consisted of a ridge of snow and ice from two to three feet high placed there by the street railway plowing snow off their tracks. This case is on the list at Dedham.

I settled the suit of Mary McClay with the approval of Mayor Hodges for $75. This suit was to recover damages for injuries received by Mrs. McClay in falling on an icy sidewalk which was defective on Canal street. The plaintiff broke her wrist and was incapacitated for labor for some time.

The Ida E. Wilkinson case was an action for damages growing out of an injury occasioned by the plaintiff falling on a defective sidewalk on Hancock street. The suit was settled by Mayor Hodges and myself for $127.

The Tipping case is pending in the Superior Court at Dedham. The plaintiff seeks to recover $4,000 damages for falling on the sidewalk opposite the stairway leading to the offices of the Quincy Patriot and Ledger on Hancock street, January 20, 1895, and claims that the sidewalk was defective because of large accumulations of uneven snow and ice.

The case of Mary Nelson is one wherein she sues to recover $4,000 for injuries claimed to have been sustained by reason of falling on an alleged defective sidewalk on Old Colony street, February, 1895. This case is on the list at Dedham.

Bridget Dolan's suit is also for personal injuries sustained, she claims, by reason of an alleged defect in the sidewalk on Hancock street near the corner of Walnut street, consisting of uneven snow and ice which occasioned her to fall. She has sued for $4,000 damages. Accident happened January 29, 1895, about 4.30 P. M.

Any information or fact in the possession of citizens who may read this report in reference to any claim or suit against the City, will be greatly received by the Solicitor. Knowledge of the condition of the particular sidewalks and streets where an accident occurs at the time of the accident or thereabouts, is always of value to the law officers in defending the City.

Mr. Cotter's suit is an action of contract to recover $4,081 with interest and costs, for professional services and disbursements of himself, Mr. Jenney and Mr. Ormsby, in reference to bringing and arguing a bill for instructions before the Supreme Judicial Court in the matter of the Woodward Fund. The case is reported as that of the City of Quincy vs. the Attorney General.

Mr. Cotter and Mr. McAnarney presented to the Board of managers of the Woodward Fund a bill for services and disbursements in this matter for $4500, which included as well the services of Mr. Jenney and Mr. Ormsby. The question was raised as to whether or not the City Solicitor could legally charge for his services, whereupon Mr. Cotter withdrew Mr. McAnarney's name from the bill and presented the bill for $4,081.00 subsequently sued on. The suit has been referred to Andrew J. Bailey as Auditor, who will make a finding on all the facts. Both the City and Mr. Cotter reserve the right to determine the matter before a jury.

On behalf of the City I appeared before the Commissioners appointed by the Supreme Court under Sec. 10. Chap. 407, of the Acts of 1893 and Chap. 288 Sec. 8 of Acts of 1894 to apportion the cost of the Boulevard and Park reservation among the thirty-seven cities and towns comprising the Metropolitan Park District for a term of five years. There were over a dozen hearings, all of which I attended and at my request the Commissioners came to Quincy and viewed the City in reference to its situation to the Blue Hill Reservation.

The City of Quincy first advanced the theory, which was strongly opposed by Brookline and other cities and towns, that due allowance should be made for losses to the cities and towns sustained by reason of the taking for public purposes taxable property within their respective limits, in offset to any particular benefit which they might derive by reason of proximity to any large reservation.

The Commissioners filed their report July 9th, 1895, in which they adopted this principle among others in making up their plan of apportionment and assessed Quincy .01358944 per cent for cost and maintenance of parks and .01660804 per cent for cost of boulevards.

I was informed by the Secretary of the Metropolitan Park Board that Quincy's contribution under this assessment would be about $417.93 per year for cost of parks, possibly as much more for maintenance and $35.46 per year as its share of the cost of boulevards.

The report of the Commissioners is now before the Supreme Judicial Court on appeal by Somerville and other cities and towns who were aggrieved by the plan of apportionment adopted.

I appeared before the Committee of the legislature on sewerage matters and had many conferences with Mayor Hodges, Mr. Rice, Mr. Pinkham, the representatives of Milton, Hyde Park, Dedham and the City of Boston in reference to different provisions of the bill which subsequently became a law and is known as Chap. 279, Acts of 1895, "An act to authorize the City of Quincy to construct a system of sewerage."

By the instructions of Mayor Hodges, I appeared before the Legislative Committee on County Estimates and objected to the estimates submitted by the County Commissioners of Norfolk County for County expenditures for 1895.

The Committee allowed the amounts asked for upon the assertion of Chairman Morrill of the Commissioners that the sums were needed and would be expended for the purposes specified. Subsequently in June and November the County Commissioners transferred $24,000 from different accounts to expenditures on Dedham Court House in violation of this understanding.

There has been pending before the Board of County Commissioners since 1890, a petition by the City for the widening of the bridge and approaches over the railroad on Hancock street near the Atlantic Station. Owing to the fact that the personnel of the Board of County Commissioners had almost entirely changed since the views and hearings had taken place, new views and hearings had to be given.

I have had the County Commissioners out to view the premises and there has been one hearing. The matter has been temporarily suspended to enable the railroad's and city's engineers to agree upon plans for the construction of a new bridge. As soon as the plans are completed I will see that the views and hearings are given for the final adjudication by the Commissioners.

During the past year there has been the usual number of claims made against the City for damages for injuries on highways and claims for damages done to real estate, which have not been sued upon and some of which have been settled by Mayor Hodges and myself, when upon an examination of the facts it seemed expedient so to do.

I have made my headquarters for the transaction of City business at City Hall. I desire to suggest the advisability of making provisions for the Solicitor, his papers and his library in any proposed plans for the remodeling of the offices.

When requested, I have submitted legal opinions in writing to the Mayor and the City Council, and have also rendered assistance to the heads of departments and Committees of the Council.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL R. BLACKMUR,

City Solicitor.

Quincy, January 6th, 1896.

Report of City Clerk.

Adams Academy.

To Hon. C. F. Adams 2d., Mayor:

The Board of Managers of Adams Academy beg leave to present the Annual report.

The school year is from Sept. 1st, to Aug. 31st.

At the close of the school, June 1894, there were 46 pupils. Of these 10 graduated and entered colleges.

This number returned to the Academy Sept. 1st, 1895, and 10 were admitted. Of this number 9 have since left the school to go to other schools or have given up further study. While this number of 37 pupils may seem a small number, we wish to call attention to the fact that the school is simply a fitting school for colleges. From its restricted circumstances it cannot give a general high grade education.

Its funds are so limited that it cannot do this on account of lack of sufficient teaching force and also from the lack of the machinery and facilities required.

In the only work the the school can do it holds to a standard equal to any preparatory school. The results of the examinations for admission to the colleges of the land show as high a standard as at any time in the history of this school.

With what material we have, the school is doing all that can be expected and is giving to the studious Quincy boys an opportunity to secure the preparation needed for admission to college, at less expense and at greater convenience than if they had to go to other places to secure it.

When the time comes that some liberal citizen of wealth will give it further endowment the citizens of Quincy will, we are certain, find the school ready to take advantage of its good fortune.

The continued business depression has its discouraging effect on the income of the school, but we hope to see an early improvement in that regard, but if the school can have the income accorded to it for the future which has been given to it for the past two or three years, we can continue the work at the present standard.

An imperative need of the school is a physical and chemical laboratory, and this will have to be furnished within a year or two if we expect to meet the requirements of Harvard University for admission to its advantages.

We append the following statement of the expenses of the school for the year 1894-95 :

Report of Managers of the Woodward Fund.

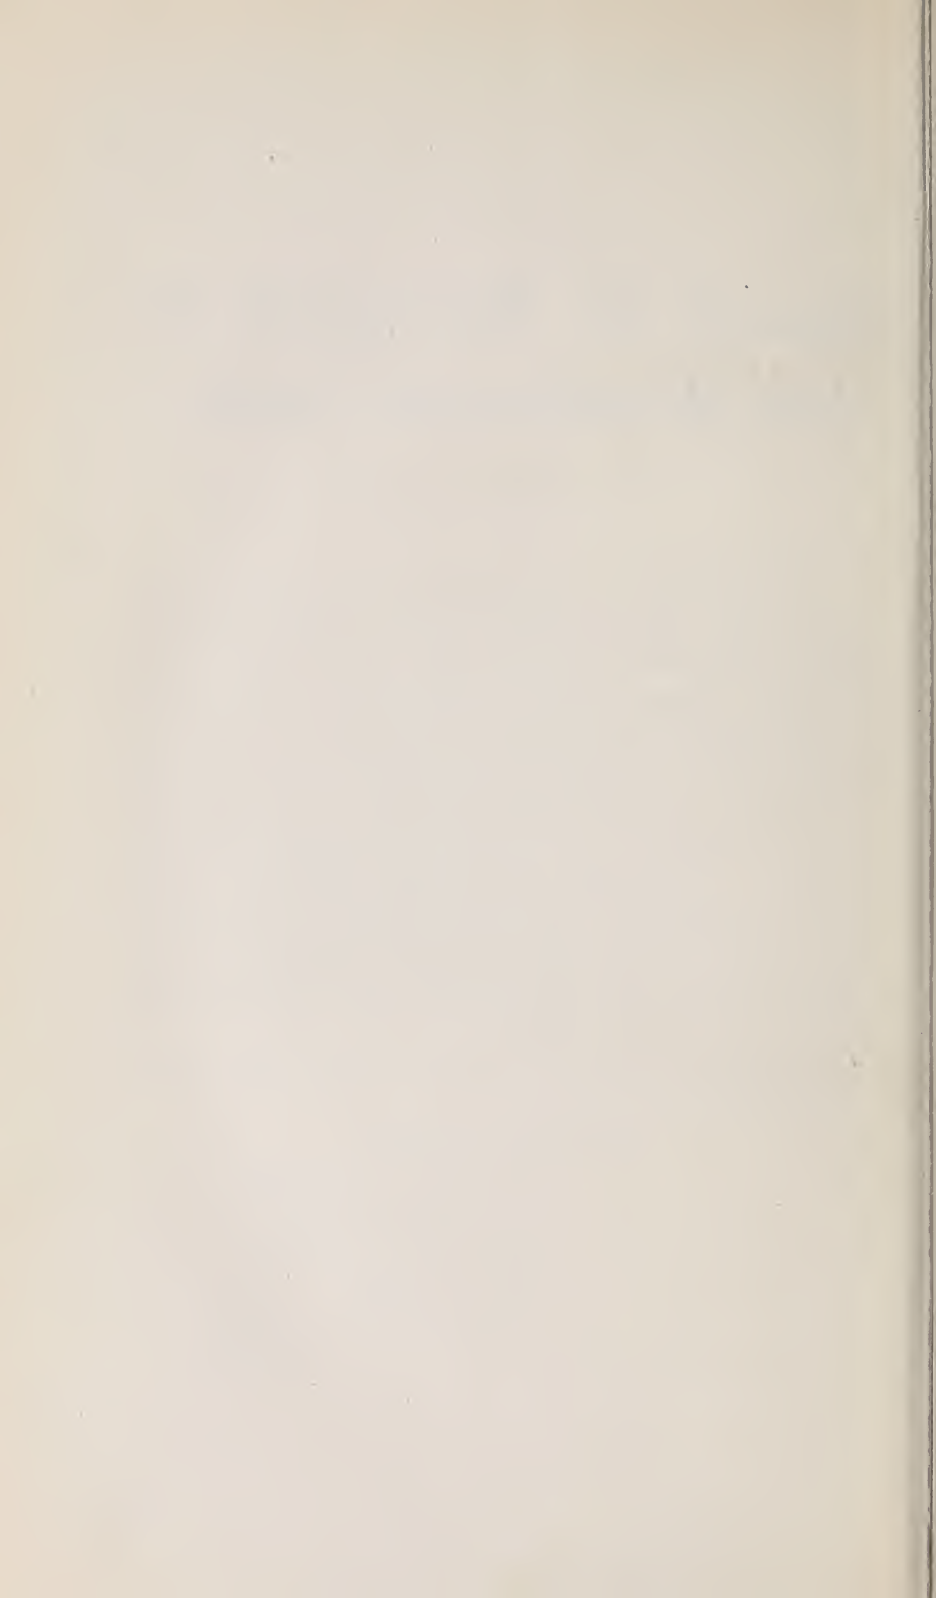

To the City Council :

In our last report we expressed the hope that plans for an addition to the Institute building could be prepared, allowing sufficient accommodations and at the same time not involving too great a cost. Having received assurances from one of the architects who furnished plans last year that a building according to his plan could be erected for less than $20,000, we advertised for proposals. It appeared, however, that the bidders, knowing what sum was to be devoted to the structure, gave up figuring when they found that they would exceed that limit, and only one bid for constructing the whole building was received. This was for nearly $35,000. Ineffectual attempts were then made to reduce the cost in various ways, but we were finally forced to the conclusion that the size of the proposed addition must be largely cut down. In all probability the work will be begun and finished during the coming summer.

The financial condition of the Fund is fully shown in the annexed report of the Treasurer.

Quincy, Jan. 1, 1896.

Woodward Institute.

In behalf of the Trustees of Woodward Institute the following report is submitted. The work of the year past has been such as to deepen in the minds of the Trustees the sense of the debt of gratitude the City of Quincy owes to the late Dr. Woodward. Though there are yet no graduates to point to, the Trustees feel that the work of the school speaks in no uncertain tone—in the improved carriage of the scholars, their increased ability to think for themselves, to grasp new conceptions, as well as in the marked esprit du corps, which is so manifest a feature in the school.

In securing an education, the teachers count as a factor quite as largely as the course of studies pursued, and the Trustees have a special pride and satisfaction in the corps of teachers at the Institute, from the accomplished and efficient principal down. It is hard to estimate the value to the scholars of daily contact with such well trained specialists.

The school has suffered greatly for lack of room in the past, but the outlook for the needed enlargement is good, and the expectation is now, that with the beginning of the fall term of '96 the school will enter on a still wider sphere of usefulness. With the new hall will come better opportunities for the public to see the work of the school than have heretofore been possible. Also with increased accommodation various lines before impracticable will be opened up. Courses in dressmaking, millinery, cooking, and even instrumental music are among the possibilities of the near future.

The following report of the Principal, Miss Carrie E.

Small, to the Trustees, will be of interest to the citizens, as giving a good view of the spirit and work of the Institute :

To the Trustees of Woodward Institute :

GENTLEMEN :—In presenting my second annual report, it gives me pleasure to express to you my appreciation of your continued generous and unselfish efforts for the improvement of our school and its home.

Fortunate indeed that institution which receives from its governing Board untiring and well-directed zeal, cordial sympathy, and intelligent interest and action ! Such, may I say, is our own happy experience.

Although a repetition of what is already known to you, the following statements will give a suggestion of the aims and efforts of the teachers of Woodward Institute, and a review of the principal events during the school-year 1895.

On March 12, Founder's Day was observed by appropriate exercises. We should have been pleased to invite friends to join in this first tribute to the memory of Dr. Woodward, but the size of the assembly-hall (the central passage-way on the second story) did not permit that privilege ; therefore the guests were limited in number to the Board of Managers, the Board of Trustees, the Superintendent of the Public Schools, and representatives of the local press. The chairman of the Board of Trustees, Rev. Ellery Channing Butler, and others addressed the pupils, greatly to their satisfaction.

In May, Dr. Helen F. Pierce lectured upon personal hygiene. The practical influence of her instructive talk was noticed in many ways. Later, Mr. Rupert F. Claffin kindly gave an excellent talk upon "National Banks." We can foresee good results from a series of such lessons upon various subjects.

At the close of the term, Miss Charlotte W. Hawes, the eminent music critic, gave a lecture upon "National Songs," illustrated by piano selections. This morning was one of the most delightful of our year.

On the following day the teachers held an informal reception for pupils and friends and good-byes were said for a long vacation.

During the summer, it became evident that the enlargement of our building was not soon to be made; hence the recommendation to receive no new pupils of the sixth grade, and to accept from applicants only those girls who had been promoted unconditionally in their several schools.

The fall term opened Sept. 16, with about the same number of pupils as during the preceding year, owing to the decisions just mentioned. Pupils in advanced work entered the school and many in the different classes are fitting for higher institutions of learning.

The spirit of the school, as a whole, I cannot too highly commend. Emanating from the teachers, it pervades all classes, and is felt by the individual. Careless girls are becoming more careful; idle girls, more diligent; the indifferent are waking up; the slow are making efforts for better work; the quick, intelligent girls are learning to have patience with their slower sisters.

Although "trifles make perfection," "perfection is no trifle;" in our school, perfection, or even its shadow, is still a long way off. We feel that our girls will compare favorably with other girls. Most of their faults would be unperceived except by careful daily observation. While a few of our young women expend too much thought and unnecessary nervous strength upon their duties, others need to be more thoroughly conscientious, more scholarly in intent, more earnest in purpose, more generous in thought, more broad in their sympathies, more gracious in manners, in order to become what we covet for them to be, women of "noble thought and lovely deeds."

Our girls need to read better, to spell and define better, to write better, to compose better, to reckon better,—in short, they need to be what we are striving for them to be—educated.

The idea, so common in some places, that every private school is a good asylum for the physically, morally, and mentally weak, let us trust no longer deludes the minds of our community. Our girls are expected to study, to dig for themselves.

This is somewhat hard for both pupil and teacher ; it is much easier for the one to tell just what to do and how to do it, and for the other to be told. The method pursued requires skill, patience and courage ; it strengthens and develops.

The teacher-will-do-most-of-it method weakens and destroys the child's power of will and thought. We would that Duty's "Thou must !" should receive the reply, "I can !"

Nevertheless, we would not urge the pupil beyond her real strength. If happily performed, a reasonable amount of school work does not injure the average pupil ; provided, also, I need not add, there is reason applied to the regulation of out-door exercise, food, sleep, and social demands, all of which are without the province of school control. Health is of primary importance ; realizing this, we have an unwritten law that no definite amount of work be required at any definite time for any department in any class. I do not mean by this statement that no exercise or lesson is to be promptly prepared ; the contrary, rather ; but that the "going over" fifty pages of a book in the fall term, and just fifty more in the winter term is a task omitted in our plans. Whithersoever the needs of the class tend, thither goes our instruction. We aim at quality rather than quantity. "Facts, sir, facts !" are undoubtedly useful, but not of prime importance in the science and art of education.

In many directions improvement has been marked. In History, text-books have been laid aside, and individual research is required. The beginners in Geometry work out their own demonstrations, using no helps. This method cultivates their powers of invention, judgment, and reasoning, besides affording an excellent practice in exact and concise English expression.

Advance is noted in both German and Latin in ability to read at sight, in grasping the thought of an author, in smoothness and accuracy of translation from or into English.

Stenography and type-writing have been elected by many young women who have thereby improved in spelling and punctuation, in dexterity, and in attention to details. Two of our girls are now employed by firms in our own city.

Great interest has been taken in Gymnastics and it seems a pity that the work should be hampered by lack of a proper room and apparatus. Most of the classes practice in the furnace-room of the basement. In another corner, is our chemical laboratory, if such it may be called; for the department suffering most from lack of suitable accommodations is that of Science. However, the girls are developing their powers to do, to observe, and to draw logical conclusions.

The departments of Art and Music are tending towards a finer instinct, a greater discrimination,—the cultivation of taste.

Composition work is steadily improving. The girls are made to write—write—write. As they gain in general information and in a knowledge of their own language and literature, they will have something to say, and know better how to say it. The work in English is considered of the greatest importance; twice as much time is devoted to this subject as to any other.

At the close of the fall term a Forefathers' Day entertainment was given just among ourselves. It was interesting to note the improved ability of the girls. Only four days were given for preparation, yet poems and speeches were memorized in that time and well delivered.

Our library, though small, is increased by a few volumes each term. The girls are learning how to use books both without and within.

Criticism is often easy; desired reform is likely to be accomplished with difficulty. Fortunately we have, as yet, no long-established troublesome customs belonging to ourselves, therefore our methods are easily susceptible of change whenever it seems necessary. The results, though slow of accomplishment, we hope may be of enduring worth. In the spirit of our Founder's will, we desire to provide a symmetrical, useful education for Quincy-born girls.

I am sure the teachers would find aid and encouragement if parents would take of their time to inspect their daughters' work in the school-room. We gladly welcome all visitors, and extend a cordial invitation to the public to become acquainted with the daily doings of this free school for girls.

Although unable "to see ourselves as others see us," we who strive know well our distance from the goal of our desires.

Respectfully submitted,

CARRIE E. SMALL,
Principal.

In connection with the management of the Institute, it is only fitting at this time to mention the names of two members of the Board, whose counsels have been particularly helpful and whose fidelity to the trust committed to them most commendable. The two referred to are Rev. Edward Norton, formerly of the Evangelical Congregational Church of Quincy, and Rev. C. W. Wilder of the M. E. Church of Wollaston. Both of these, through severing their relations with these churches as pastors, have ceased to be members of the Board.

For the Board of Trustees,

EDWARD A. ROBINSON,
Secretary.

Report of School Committee.

To the Citizens of Quincy:

The year which is drawing to a close has been a satisfactory one, the relations of the members of the Board with one another as well as with the Superintendent of Schools being marked by the most perfect harmony and cordial feeling.

The report of the School Board can of necessity be only a general utterance upon the state of the schools of our city. As to matters of statistical information we must refer our people to the accompanying report of the Superintendent.

We consider ourselves fortunate in commanding the services of Mr. Lull in the office mentioned and we believe that the really high position which our school system occupies in the state and in the country is largely due to his energy and wisdom. We recommend therefore to our fellow citizens the perusal of his report, wherein they will find an instructive study of educational subjects while at the same time a scrutiny of the financial exhibit will show with what scrupulous care the interests of the tax payers have been guarded.

The necessity of two new school houses, one in the Rail district and the other in the region known as Norfolk Downs, was made known by us to the city council at an early date and although we have some cause for disappointment in finding that the debates held upon the subject within that body have been without practical result, we look forward with confidence to the deliberations of the coming year.

The almost unexampled growth of the High School during the last six years has not escaped your observation. From an average membership of a little over ninety, the school has reached a total enrollment of 340, a number far exceeding in size the total combined attendance at the Woodward Seminary, the Adams Academy and the Thayer Academy. These figures prove that the High School is offering to the people something which the people desire to have while it affords to the Teachers, the Superintendent and the School Board the most precious encouragement in their efforts for enlarging the usefulness and elevating the standard of the institution. We can nevertheless easily foresee a time when this rapid growth will present to the School Board a problem which it will find somewhat difficult of solution, but that time has not yet come. There is no cause for present anxiety.

At the suggestion of Mr. Tupper, the efficient Head-Master of the school, we venture to recommend an appropriation for the purchase of a large number of books of reference. Works of this sort are sorely needed.

Report of the Superin= tendent.

To the School Committee of Quincy :—

GENTLEMEN :—For the twenty-first time it is the duty of the Superintendent of the Quincy schools to submit his annual report to the Board. This fourth yearly record of the present incumbent of the office is the forty-sixth of the printed reports.

The past year has been a period of growth—at least in numbers—but it must be regretfully added, not in accommodations. It will be of little profit to review the efforts made to secure additional buildings, except for the purpose of informing the parents in the crowded districts that both the Board and the Superintendent anticipated their needs by a whole year and urged that proper provision be made in season.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

The Board of Assessors for the year 1895 have appraised the school buildings and lands as follows :

High . . .	$75,000	Washington . . .	$ 11,000
Old High . . .	9,000	Willard . . .	125,000
Adams . . .	15,000	Wollaston . . .	36,000
Coddington . . .	20,000	Germantown land	300
John Hancock . . .	45,000	Quincy Neck “	300
Lincoln . . .	27,650	“The Rail ” “ †	1,000
Quincy . . .	19,700	Norfolk Downs “ $	1,500
Total valuation of lands and buildings . . .			$386,450
Approximate value of furniture, books, apparatus, etc.			15,000

Grand total $401,450

This includes the land on which the Hose House stands.

† Cost . . . $3,000 $ Cost . . . $3,532.40

In these eight grammar and primary schools are seventy-four rooms suitable for constant use—that is, provided good ventilation is not demanded—but, during the autumn eighty rooms have been forced into service. Even then the seventh and eighth grades of the Lincoln and of the John Hancock have not been separated, and all the sixth grade of the Lincoln is housed in the Adams, far from its own district. Furthermore, of the seventy-four rooms twenty-two have more than their regular number.

Land booms, the opening of new districts for homes, the arrival of new families in the “City of Presidents,” the long record of births in the city report, and the census returns are matters of congratulation; but it should be remembered, too, that every new arrival means at least one more chair and desk, one more book, and, in fine, one more complete outfit—to say nothing of an increased teaching force. So long as children continue to be born, so long will the Board be obliged to press on the Council its demands for more room. The masterly activity of a Herod once failed to check the growth of population, and certainly fear of taxes will not be more successful today.

The Lincoln district will demand the attention of the Board as soon as the needs of "The Rail" and "The Downs-Park" districts are satisfied. The Lincoln was opened in September of 1892. The next spring forty-three pupils were removed because of its crowded condition. In the spring of 1894 the whole sixth grade was sent to the unfinished attic of the John Hancock, and a new primary room was opened. In the late autumn of the same year, because of lack of heating power at the John Hancock, the same grade was transferred to the Adams. This made necessary the re-occupation of the old attic room in that building. As the Council refused to appropriate money for the transportation of the Lincoln children, the deportation from their own district is considered a great hardship by the parents of these children.

At the close of school December 20 there were 443 pupils in the Lincoln school, and nearly all of these live south of a line drawn east and west through the building. If fifty were crowded into each room, there would still be a surplus of more than fifty in the district.

TEACHERS.

At the close of the schools in December there were in service :

*This number fluctuates during the year. From April to July the demand is the greatest. All the assistants are Quincy girls and all, save one, are graduates of the High School.

The business course of the High School proved so popular that in September a new teacher was a necessity. In the Willard the fifth grade numbered in September one hundred thirty and a new room was opened. In the same building in April a similar overcrowding made necessary a new low-grade room.

TRUANCY.

During the year the principals unanimously petitioned the Board that one truant officer should be appointed for the whole city. It should be his duty to make a regular round of the schools, keep a careful record of all truants, and take whatever official action may be necessary. The officer should also take the school census in May, for which the sum of $125 is now paid.

The present officers act only on a special request to investigate a special case. No one up and down the streets of the city exerts any direct or indirect influence on the children at large. No one makes a regular inspection of stores, factories, quarries and all other places of employment to see that the labor laws are being obeyed. There are in the city several boys, not yet fourteen years of age, who are headed straight for the state prison. Their parents have absolutely no control over them. The police know them, and they also know that they will be the future criminals in our courts. One active, determined officer can do much in the way of prevention.

SALARIES.

Quincy is now, as she has been in the past, an educational missionary. She has furnished teacher after teacher to Boston and eleven of its suburban cities and towns—to say nothing of cities more remote. No matter how much she may regret the loss of her teachers, for they are among the best, it is a fact that a half-year of a first-class teacher is better than a whole year of a weak one. Furthermore, the knowledge that faithful and successful work means promotion and increased salary within the metropolitan district, is an excellent incentive. Nevertheless, Quincy would, without doubt, gladly do less foreign and more home missionary work, if her valuation warranted and her large school population permitted it.

Five thousand parents are rearing the school children of Quincy. Some are bringing them up “by hand,” some “by tongue,” some by will power, some by multiplying tasks or dividing privileges, some by adding to the hours of sleep or subtracting from the daily amount of food, some by the force of a great and magnetic personality, and some are doing nothing save allowing their children to grow up.

With all this diversity the teacher must work, but deprived of nearly all the aids and incentives that are common to the average family. It is a great wonder and a daily miracle that so much can be done in the school in spite of the home, the street and the playground. A teacher deals with an average of at least fifty different children during the 350 sessions of a school year, and yet out of these 17,500 chances that each teacher has to make serious mistakes, the complaints to the Superintendent do not average one each to the whole corps. This speaks well for the sound common sense of the teaching force and should give it the confidence and esteem of the community and a pecuniary reward commensurate with the value and importance of its work.

Twenty-one teachers have resigned during the year. Thirteen were called to positions paying higher salaries. See appendix.

1855—1895.

In connection with this subject of resignations and retirement from service a most pleasing contrast should be spread upon your records.

In April, 1895, Julia E. Underwood completed her fortieth year of service in the same grade of the same school—the second grade of the Coddington. Her first teaching antedates the superintendency of Col. F. W. Parker by just twenty years and yet Miss Underwood is one of your young teachers. Such an anniversary is so unusual that the Board, the teachers and some of the citizens thought it worthy of recognition.

At the close of the spring term at a meeting of the Teachers' Association the valuable work of Miss Underwood was reviewed by Emery L. Crane, Chairman of the Board, by Hon. Charles H. Porter, Sub-committee of the Coddington, by Edwin W. Marsh, a member of the Board in April, '55, by Supt. George I. Aldrich of Newton, whose service in Quincy extended from April '83 to Dec. 31, '91, by Col. Parker, whose letter covered the period from April, '75, to April, '80, and by Dr. John A. Gordon, formerly Sub-committee of the Coddington, who replied for Miss Underwood.

The Board also recognized the event officially by the following resolutions:

"Whereas, Miss Julia E. Underwood has been a teacher in the Coddington School for forty years, therefore the School Committee, being desirous of expressing their approbation and good will after so many years of devoted work, spread upon their records the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the School Committee tender to Miss Underwood their best wishes and esteem, and congratulate her upon so long and honorable a service in which she has had the good will of the parents and the support of the School Board."

“Resolved, That a copy of this preamble and resolution be sent to Miss Underwood.”

Your Superintendent, in the name of many friends, presented Miss Underwood with forty dollars in gold, that she might have some visible and tangible evidence of the great regard in which she is held by those who were present and by the two thousand pupils who have received inspiration from her and who are a living proof that

“ No life

Can be pure in its purpose and strong in its strife,

And all life not be purer and stronger thereby.”

These exercises were brought to a close by the singing of this hymn dedicated to Miss Underwood by Frederic Allison Tupper.

A SONG OF FORTY YEARS.

[Tune—“Auld Lang Syne.”]

I.

Of all the callings in the world

The teachers' is the best,

And one who's taught for forty years

Earns honor from the rest.

CHORUS.

And honor she shall have, my friends,

In measure full to-night;

All honor to her forty years'

Devotion to the right!

II.

Call not those great who rise to fame

By tyrant's cruel art;

I call her greatest who best holds

The key to childhood's heart.

CHORUS.

And she has always held that key,
 So sing her praise to-night!
 All honor to her forty years'
 Devotion to the right!

III.

Talk not to me of flower or gem,
 Or stars that flash above—
 There is no star, no gem, no flower,
 So rich as childhood's love.

CHORUS.

And she has always had it, friends,
 Ours, too, she has to-night;
 All honor to her forty years'

HIGH SCHOOL.

A most successful year of work has been completed in the High School. Although Quincy is not able to point to-day with pride to the record of the new High in the higher institutions of learning, yet that honor is near at hand; for all the courses are now well begun and a firm foundation is being built.

The business course meets the approval of the parents and is almost too well patronized. Ten pupils were graduated last June and there are at present 31 in the second year and 79 in the first. The great difficulty is to impress on the mind of the Pupil that this course is not an easy one, and on the mind of the parent that the child who can do nothing else is not a suitable candidate for the business course. The teachers are trying to disabuse parent and pupil of these mistakes. Quincy cannot afford to send out to her business men any inferior products of her generosity. In fact, the requirements as regards accuracy and methodical work must be as rigidly insisted on here as in the classical course.

In the future it will be necessary for those who are intending to enter the Normal Schools of the state to make special preparation, as the requirements for admission are increased and are far more exacting than ever before. Pupils should now plan their electives and reviews for the Normal examinations with as great care as do those who are preparing for college.

By the census of 1890 Quincy escaped the conditions of the law passed June 14, 1894. Chapter 471 is: "After the first day of September, 1895, every city of twenty thousand inhabitants shall maintain as part of its High School system the teaching of manual training. The course to be pursued in said instruction shall be subject to the approval of the State Board of Education."

The Secretary of this board defines the schools as containing the following elements:

1. A course of study from three to four years in length, with a marked trend towards that of the greater length.
2. Freehand and mechanical drawing throughout the course, one hour daily.
3. Shop exercises, two hours daily.
4. Academic work, three hours daily, two or more of them devoted to recitations.
5. The use of power.
6. Woodworking, including the study of tools, materials, and the elementary processes of carpentry, joinery, wood turning, pattern making, and, if advisable, carving.
7. Ironworking, including forging, chipping and filing, and the elementary processes of machine work.
8. A session six hours long or longer, with a suitable allowance for recess and lunch.
9. A correlation of the academic work, so far as feasible, with that of the drawing room and the shops.

The Secretary then adds: "It is not possible, of course, to attain this standard at once; but a standard like the foregoing, modified by local conditions and improved as experience suggests, should be kept steadily in view if a city would do as well.

By its pupils as other cities with fully established manual training schools have done."

As the census of 1895 gives Quincy 20,712 inhabitants, some provision must be made to comply with the requirements of the new law. The drawing and academic work can be easily arranged. The next step should be the introduction of the Secretary's sixth element. Benches and tools with proper instruction can be provided at a moderate expense for those of the entering class who care to elect such a course as outlined.

A revised course of study has been carefully prepared to take the place of the provisional course adopted in 1891. See appendix.

A new building, a new course, and the usual interest and excitement that always attend newness, attracted to the school last year 319. This year it was not expected that the number would be so large, as the newness had worn away and three other institutions, besides the many advantages of Boston, were near at hand. To the surprise of the friends of the school the attendance has risen since Sept. 1 to 340 different pupils, and at the close of school in December it is 310.

If the average membership of the school for 1894 is compared with the population according to the census of 1895, Quincy will be tenth in the list of cities.

The table is as follows :

1. Newton0280
2. Medford0149
3. Marlboro'0144
4. Gloucester0136
5. Fitchburg0133
6. Woburn0131
7. Somerville0117
8. Worcester0112
9. Cambridge0112
10. Quincy0110

The increased average this year will place Quincy nearer the head.

The total attendance by Wards for the last term is:—

Last June twenty-five diplomas were awarded to the class of '95. The graduating exercises were a compromise between the former programmes and the method adopted by the most progressive schools of to-day. The classes are increasing in numbers to such an extent that all cannot participate in the exercises. Therefore many schools have given up all class parts and substituted a speaker of more than local reputation. It is desirable to introduce such a system here, but this year one-third of the class participated with the speaker of the evening, George H. Martin, formerly principal of the Adams school and now a supervisor in Boston.

Of this class of twenty-five, four are in the Bridgewater Normal, ten are in the Training Class, two are in Boston University, one is in the Business Department, and one is taking a postgraduate course in the High School.

The greatest need of the school at this time is an increased teaching force. If the Head Master were to give all his time to teaching, and none to supervision, even then the average number of pupils to each teacher would be nearly forty. A teacher of German is especially necessary.

See appendix for other data.

EVENING COMMON SCHOOLS.

These schools are still held in only two buildings, but there is a desire on the part of the citizens for district accommodations as well as for more advanced work. During the autumn months a request was received from the Point district for a school. Atlantic is practically excluded from the advantages of the evening schools because of the distance.

The attendance for the 59 lessons of 1895 is as follows:—

Adams: Largest attendance of men, 74; of women, 13.

Smallest attendance of men, 17; of women, 1. Average attendance of men, 42.8; of women, 6.2. Average number of teachers per night, 4.7. Sessions, 59.

Willard; Largest attendance of men, 84; of women, 11.

Smallest attendance of men, 16; of women, 2. Average attendance of men, 31.8; of women, 5.9. Average number of teachers per night, 3.5. Sessions, 59.

EVENING DRAWING SCHOOL.

The school is meeting for the second year in the High School building, but it must be removed before September of 1896, because the High needs all the rooms. The large room of the old High school building will accommodate the school and will be as central for its patrons as the present room.

The average attendance for the 51 lessons in the mechanical course was 17.6, and for the 50 in the freehand, 10.7.

At the close of the season 6 certificates were awarded to the mechanical class and 4 to the freehand; and also 6 diplomas to the mechanical.

SPECIAL DEPARTMENTS.

Drawing is the oldest special subject, as it was introduced in 1881. For nearly ten years it has been in charge of Jessie N. Prince (Mrs. F. W. Rice) and has reached such a degree of excellence that it has constantly been inspected by teachers from other cities. Miss Prince's marriage in June caused her resignation. When her successor, Charlotte A. Kendall, was engaged it was deemed best to increase the time from three days to the whole week. By this plan three days may be given to inspection and supervision—thus anticipating the two new school buildings—and two days may be reserved for the High school where Miss Kendall now does all the teaching of drawing. This plan practically adds two-fifths of a teacher to the corps, and also gives the school the instruction of a special teacher. The time allowance is one and a half hours per week.

Music had its "scientific birth" in Quincy when Mr. Wade came here in April of 1887. Since that time one and one-quarter hours per week have been devoted to it. The thorough drill in the rudiments of this subject has made possible the higher-class music in the congregational singing, the Sunday schools, the church festivals, and the choral unions.

In September of 1890 the present head of the nature work began the introduction of this subject. To it one and one-quarter hours per week are given. At the present time seventy-five per cent. of the children of this State are having more or less instruction in the three kingdoms of nature. This rapid growth shows how highly the study is regarded by the educational leaders of this Commonwealth.

Sewing in the Quincy schools dates from September of 1892. It is now limited to the girls of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades. At present the teacher makes her round once in five days and gives a lesson of fifty minutes. The regular teachers have nothing to do with the instruction or the work, but are responsible for attention, application, and general deportment.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATION.

The exercises of 1894 proved so acceptable that with a few improvements it seemed best to repeat the experiment this year in the new hall of the High school. The larger accommodations permitted the graduates to invite their parents, their former teachers, and the city officials. A pleasing innovation was the bright, entertaining and instructive address of Henry T. Bailey, agent of the State Board of Education. The singing was unusually satisfactory and reflected great credit on the teachers. A peculiarity of the programme was the recognition of the great men in whose honor most of our buildings are named.

The Board by its special sub-committees awarded 215 diplomas as follows:—

Adams, . . .	27	Quincy, . . .	33
Coddington, . .	25	Washington, . .	15
John Hancock, .	13	Willard, . . .	47
Lincoln, . . .	20	Wollaston, . . .	35

GENERAL MEETINGS.

- Jan. 31. Walter S. Parker, Supervisor, Boston.
 Feb. 14. Edward Southworth, Mather School, Dorchester.
 March 5. Henry T. Bailey, Agent State Board of Education.
 March 21. H. W. Lull, Superintendent.
 Sept. 3. H. W. Lull, Superintendent.
 Nov. 14. Sarah L. Arnold, Supervisor, Boston.
 Dec. 3. Ella B. Hallock, Representing State Board.

These meetings have been held at four o'clock in the afternoon in the High School building. The presence of the teachers has not been demanded, but such is the sense of professional honor that the attendance has been nearly one hundred per cent. The best teachers are always present.

QUINCY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

This voluntary organization entirely independent of the Board or the Superintendent, although he is a member, has entered with zeal on its second year's work. The subject for this season is the "History of Education." The social element will be provided for in two special meetings, and will also be introduced to a greater extent in the four regular meetings. No teacher can afford to be a non-member.

See appendix for officers, meetings, etc.

THE TRAINING CLASS.

Six state Normal Schools, beside the city Normal of Boston, are in successful operation, and to-day the first inquiry of those seeking teachers is, "Are you a Normal graduate?" This year statistics relating to primary and grammar schools have been gathered which prove that the best positions and the best salaries are given to Normal graduates. Furthermore, the average salary of these teachers is considerably higher than that of the teachers not professionally trained. From a business point of view, then, the cost of a normal education is money well invested, and from a professional stand-point, it is a conscientious obligation.

Even if all the positions in this city were given to Quincy girls there would not be room for all who aspire to be teachers.

In the training class two years ago there were sixteen, in last year's there were thirteen, and in the present class there are fourteen (besides those in Normal schools) who aspire to the office of teacher. As merit is and must be the only basis of judgment, it is a self evident conclusion that two or three years of normal training plus a half year's successful experience should be given the preference.

In these six Normal schools, tuition, text-books and supplies are free as in the public schools. State aid to a limited extent may be granted to deserving persons after they have been in attendance for at least one term, provided they do not live in towns where Normal schools are situated.

VERTICAL WRITING.

The experiences of many school authorities east and west, who have given vertical writing a personal trial have proved the great desirability of introducing this system in Quincy. All are unanimous regarding the success of the change. Their unanimity regarding the practical results is strengthened by the testimony of those of the medical profession who have examined the hygienic conditions of the slant and vertical systems. Furthermore all printed books recognize the desirability of upright type. No one would think of printing books in italics. The vertical being more nearly like print, the transition from script to print will be easier for the child.

The superintendents declare that by the vertical system all writing becomes legible; that the child of his own will, does not adopt the slant but constantly seeks the upright, that positively bad writers are a rare exception. The Superintendent of Wellesley says that 90 per cent. of his pupils are good writers, and none "positively bad."

The doctors assert that the vertical is natural and hygienic, that the eyes are relieved, that the danger of lateral curvature of the spine is lessened, that there is less twisting of the head and dropping of the shoulder, and that the front position aids circulation and respiration.

The agitation has brought forth a simpler script. This is particularly true of the new vertical. Only the essentials are taught. Extra loops, flourishes and connections are omitted, and large and small letters are almost identical in form. This will make the teaching easier, and the reading of written work far less wearisome.

It is therefore recommended that a vertical script, plain and simple, yet artistic, be introduced at once into the lowest grades—certainly the first, second and third, perhaps the fourth; but, if in the fourth, no pupil who has already established a fairly good hand shall be obliged to change. In the higher grades those children who are unable to write a legible hand might profit by the vertical system.

The teachers should not be obliged to teach themselves, or to incur any personal expense if the change is made; but they must have instruction. To meet this need any publishing house whose books are adopted will furnish at its own expense a skilled instructor of vertical penmanship for a course of lessons to the teachers out of school hours. He will teach them how to teach.

PATRIOTISM.

"It shall be the duty of the school committees in the several cities and towns of the Commonwealth to provide for each schoolhouse in which public schools are maintained within their respective cities and towns, not otherwise supplied, a United States flag of silk or bunting, not less than four feet in length, and a suitable flagstaff or other apparatus whereby such flag may be displayed on the schoolhouse grounds or schoolhouse buildings every school day, when the weather will permit, and on the inside of the schoolhouse on other school days."

This is the new "flag law." So far as Quincy is concerned it is superfluous, for she by inheritance and by nature is so patriotic, that for several years every school building has floated the flag and in the session preceding Memorial Day, in conjunction with the Grand Army, she has emphasized the fact that the flag is more than a "textile fabric of three different colors."

In the law is this clause, "not otherwise supplied." It is to be hoped that the Board will long be able to take advantage of this clause. If the flag floats because of the law, if the teaching of its meaning and the pledge of allegiance are a mere perfunctory duty, if it is to be furnished in the same order with paper, dusters, pencils, chalk, etc., etc., the law will become a farce. If any good is to follow such a legal command, the teacher must by his enthusiasm, his reverence, his conversation, and instruction create in the child the spirit that those who enacted the law intended should result from it. Therefore in the future, as in the past, the pupils themselves by the assistance of their parents and friends, should have a personal interest in their flag, because of their personal exertion in securing it. The best, most successful, least burdensome way, and a method that reaches the largest number, is the use of the flag ticket furnished at the office of the Youth's Companion. These are sold for five cents. Even our smallest school can secure sufficient funds from its own district in twenty-four hours for a twelve-foot flag, and have a balance left for pictures to beautify its walls.

CONCLUSION.

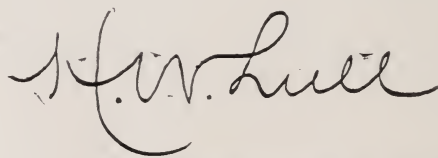

In connection with this subject is a kindred matter to which the attention of the parents may with profit be called—one, perhaps, which is too often forgotten. Patriotism as illustrated by the flag is, indeed, of great importance; the development of the intellect is imperative; the drill that corrects physical weakness should be required; the need of constant education of the moral qualities and of character building no one denies; but if the school is to make for good citizenship and for “complete living,” certain other training must also be demanded. Herein every teacher in the city is doing a great work and is adding to the stability of the city, state and national government.

The child is taught to recognize and respect the rights and the property of others, to be punctual in attendance and in the performance of his duties, to have a method as well as a time for his tasks, to work in unison with others, to be clean and orderly, to be economical, to apply himself, to persevere, and, in fine, to cultivate the powers of self-control, self-reliance and self-direction. The child also learns that birth, looks, creed and money must give way to brains and energy and character. He sees the value of honest work, of truthfulness, courtesy, respect for authority and voluntary obedience.

Such qualities as these make for better citizenship and will give the community better neighbors, better townsmen and better citizens. Such schooling as this tends to unify the races, the creeds, the classes of society and to equalize the division of wealth. Whatever unifies the nation tends to its stability.

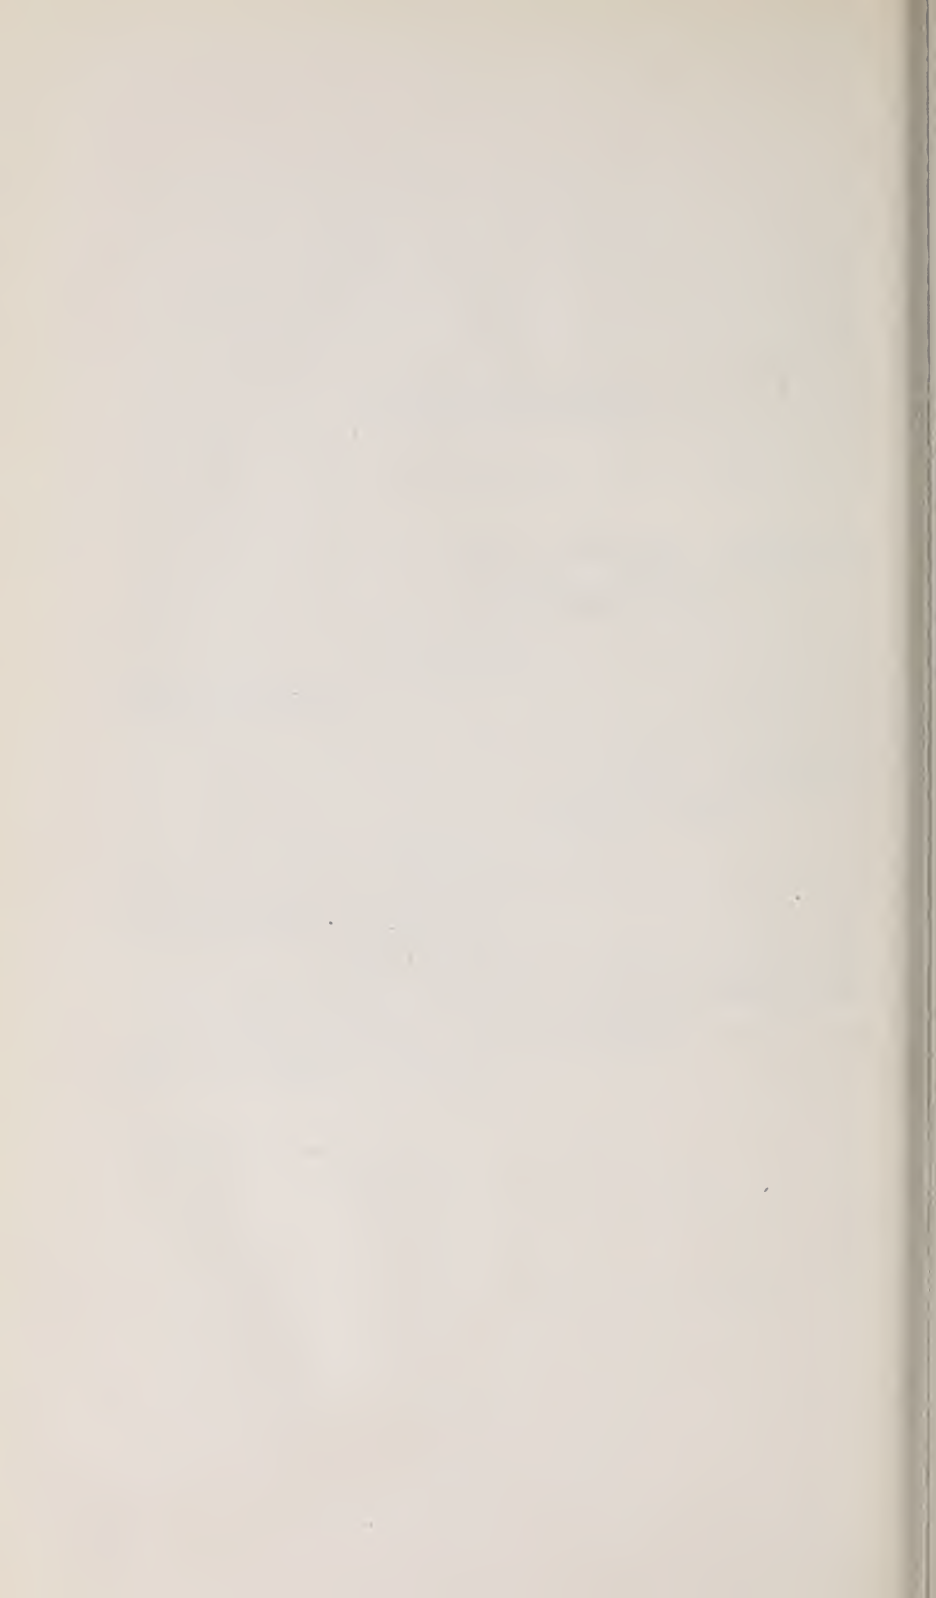

With thanksgiving for the help and encouragement of the past year this report is respectfully submitted.

CLASS COLOR:—White.

CLASS MOTTO:—"Sed Quid Temptare Nocebit."

CLASS ODE.

1.

Last sad farewell now
To Alma Mater's halls,
Lovingly sing it here
'Neath cherished walls.
Gratefully give her praise
To whom all praise is due,
Warm be the tribute paid,
Tender and true!

II.

Though years may vanish,
 Scenes change with lapse of time,
 Though duty stern may call
 To distant clime ;
 Yet backward with regret
 Our thoughts will oft be cast
 To school life, now become
 A fragrant past.

III

Now the dim future
 With golden promise gleams,
 No shade of sorrow falls,
 So fair it seems !
 Yet with the sunshine bright
 Shadows must surely be,
 Storms lurk in brightest skies,
 O'er life's wild sea.

IV.

But ever mindful
 Of lessons thou hast taught,
 With help of Him who gives
 Whate'er is sought,
 So bravely facing life,
 Sunshine and shadows too,
 Fondly we bid thee now
 Our last adieu.

ELLEN M. GREANY.

Plan of Work :—

The first meeting of the Association for the current year has been held. It consisted of a short business meeting and a sociable. The last or sixth meeting will be of a similar nature.

The four working meetings are to be devoted to the topic "Education in Other Lands," as follows :

First, Education in France, Frederic A. Tupper.

Second, Education in England, Carrie E. Small.

Third, Education in Germany, Prof. Perrin of Boston University.

Fourth, Education in China and Japan, T. B. Pollard.

Each paper is to occupy twenty minutes, and following this a discussion upon some relative topic will occupy the same length of time. The twenty minutes remaining is to be spent in transacting the business of the Association and in sociability.

A sub-committee in charge of each meeting is to assign topics for discussion and appoint speakers, and also to provide instrumental and vocal music for the social part of the hour.

THE NORMAL SCHOOLS.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION IN 1896.

Candidates for admission to any one of the normal schools must have attained the age of seventeen years complete, if young men, and sixteen years, if young women; and must be free from any disease or infirmity which would unfit them for the office of teacher. They must present certificates of good moral standing, give evidence of good intellectual capacity (records of their scholarship standing in the High schools are desired), and be graduates of High schools whose courses of study have been approved by the Board of Education; or they must have received, to the satisfaction of the principal and the Board of Visitors of the school, the equivalent of a good high school education. The examinations for admission shall cover such elementary and high school subjects as may be determined by the Board.

For 1896 and thereafter, until further notice, the examinations will embrace papers on the following groups, a single paper with a maximum time allowance of two hours to cover each of groups 1, 2 and 4, and a single paper with a maximum time allowance of one hour to cover each of groups 3 and 5 (five papers with a maximum time allowance of eight hours).

1. Languages—(a) English, with its grammar and literature, and (b) one of three languages—Latin, French and German.

2. Mathematics—(a) Arithmetic, (b) the elements of algebra and (c) the elements of plane geometry.

3. History and Geography—The history and civil government of Massachusetts and the United States, with related geography and so much of English history as is directly contributory to a knowledge of United States history.

4. Sciences—(a) Physical geography, (b) physiology and hygiene, (c) physics, (d) botany and (e) chemistry,

5. Drawing and Music—(a) Elementary, mechanical and freehand drawing, with any one of the topics—form, color and arrangement, and (b) musical notation.

ORAL EXAMINATIONS.

Candidates will be questioned orally either upon some of the foregoing subjects or upon matters of common interest to them and the school, at the discretion of the examiners. In this interview the object is to gain some impression about the candidates' personal characteristics and their use of language, as well as to give them an opportunity to furnish any evidences of qualification that might not otherwise become known to their examiners. Any work of a personal, genuine and legitimate character that candidates have done in connection with any of the groups that are set for examination, and that is susceptible of visible or tangible presentation, may be offered at this time, and such work will be duly weighed in the final estimate, and may even determine it. To indicate the scope of this feature the following kinds of possible presentation are suggested, but the candidates may readily extend the list:

1. A book of drawing exercises—particularly such a book of exercises as one might prepare in following the directions in "An Outline of Lessons in Drawing for Ungraded Schools," prepared under the direction of the Massachusetts Board of Education, or in developing any branch of that scheme.
2. Any laboratory notebook that is a genuine record of experiments performed, data gathered or work done, with the usual accompaniments of diagrams, observations and conclusions.
3. Any essay or article that presents the nature, successive steps and conclusion of any simple, personally conducted investigation of a scientific character, with such diagrams, sketches, tables and other helps as the character of the work may suggest.
4. Any exercise book containing compositions, abstracts, analyses or other written work that involves study in connection with the literature requirements of the examination.
